

Worker Killed In Caldecott 3

A 22-year-old construction worker was crushed to death in Caldecott Three Monday by a boulder which pinned him against the immense steel jumbo at the east main heading.

It was the first fatality since construction began on the $10.1 million 2-lane tunnel in December, 1960.

Years ago three men died during the construction of neighboring Caldecott bores one and two.

Turner, nephew of the project manager, Clyde Turner, was described as "nearly cut in two" when a boulder "as big as an automobile" fell from the gap between the main heading and the steel protective crown.

Rushed by ambulance to an Oakland hospital, Turner was pronounced dead on arrival.

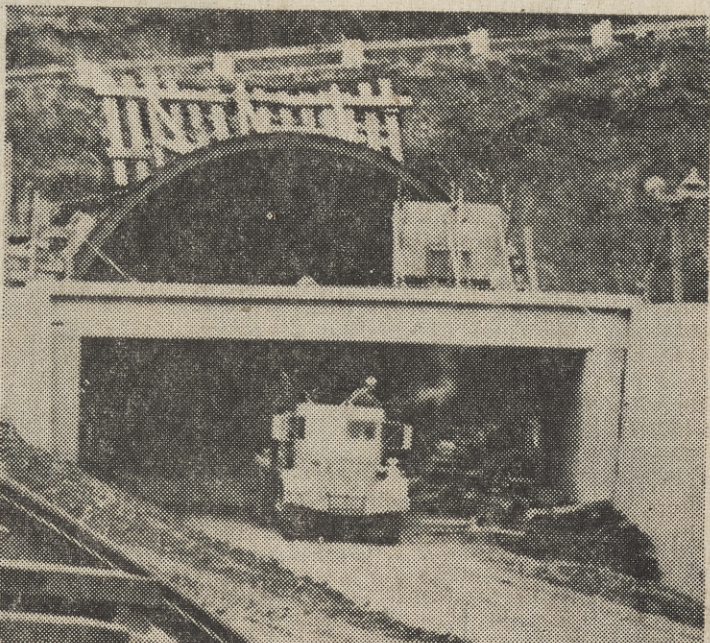

ENGINEER Dennis McCarey explained that the face of the heading is first "shot" with dynamite charges and then the protective steel crown is moved ahead to fill the gap.

Witnesses said Turner was standing at the face of the heading where drilling was being done in preparation for blasting.

When the rock broke loose, a group of men dashed for the mouth of the tunnel.

Turner apparently slipped.

The boulder, McCarey said, wedged between the earth face and the steel "jumbo" scaffold, slammed the young worker against the steel frame of the jumbo.

INSIDE, DEATH—A tunnel construction worker was crushed to death by a boulder which tore loose from the roof of excavations just inside the east portal of Caldecott Three Monday. It was the first fatality at the project.

THE YOUNG man was a resident of Oakland.

It was a much larger catastrophe which killed three men when the first two bores of the tunnel complex were built. Only a few weeks ago, State Resident Engineer I. W. Black told The Sun that much had been learned from earlier experience with a huge cave-in in the first bores.

The current project is a joint venture by contractors Connolly, Grafe, Brayer and Harney.

Workmen have suffered minor injuries during over 1000 feet of mining and blasting, but there had been no fatality.

The state predicts a completion date of "mid-1964" on the project.

El Toyonal To Get Signal

County to Shift Funds From Priority Crossing

The county will build a signal at El Toyonal and Camino Pablo as soon as the money is available.

Mark Kermit, traffic engineer with the county public works department, made this statement to The Sun yesterday. Kermit and his family reside at 91 La Cuesta, Orinda.

"In the proposed budget, there was a (signal) project proposed for Santa Maria Way and Camino Pablo. We are going to recommend that this money be used for the El Toyonal intersection instead," Kermit stated.

THE CHANGE was attributed to "community concern."

The Orinda Association, through Past President Eric Nielsen and President Harry Fledderman, has for many months corresponded with the county about the "hazardous" crossing at El Toyonal.

Kermit's replies to these letters have cited the statistics. There has been no pedestrian accident at El Toyonal; and several auto accidents have been recorded at Santa Maria's intersection, according to the county records.

May 13, three 11-year-old girls were almost hit at the El Toyonal crossing. One of the girls, Mary Lee Eldred, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Eldred, was spun around by a car and had her elbow skinned.

THE "NEAR-MISS" prompted Fledderman to write "a few days sooner" than he had intended to request action on the part of the county at the "danger crossing."

While the association had received complaints about the El Toyonal crossing, Fledderman noted that none had been received regarding the Santa Maria crossing.

"We dislike having to implicitly consent to a choice between the two intersections for a signal," Fledderman wrote to Kermit. He suggested that the association "presumed" the need for a signal at Santa Maria Way.

since the county planned to establish one there.

"WE DO WANT better protection at El Toyonal and we believe that a pedestrian signal there would be less costly than a conventional signal at Santa Maria. If there is a need for signals at both locations, perhaps the county should face the responsibility," Fledderman said.

The county does not have funds to construct both signals, according to Kermit. "It is going to construct one . . . We are shifting the money in the budget intended for Santa Maria to El Toyonal," he added.

KERMIT called upon the community, as well as the press, to "base these things on facts and not emotion." He explained that the county bases its "priority list" for signals on carefully kept statistics over a period of years.

A letter from Mrs. C. O. Ford of El Toyonal recently prompted the association to again take up the matter of the "potentially lethal crossing."

She and members of the association board of directors agreed that the traffic situation in the El Toyonal sector was getting "progressively worse."

Earliest possible date for construction of the signal would be August, according to Kermit. The county board of supervisors will take final action on the budget in July.

Ben Randall Field -- 1st Orinda Turf, Will Be Dedicated

The first turfed playground in Orinda will be dedicated Tuesday night.

The dedication and a talent show will be part of the last general meeting of the Pine Grove Parents' Club for the school year at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

There will be a short dedication ceremony, in memory of Ben Randall, of the newly turfed school playground.

IT WAS THE contribution of the Ben Randall Memorial Fund which put the drive for Orinda's first turfed playground over the top.

Randall, for 20 years, was known as the "baby sitter" of Orinda. He was manager of the Orinda Theater and then the Rheem Theater at the time of his death.

Many civic groups joined the Pine Grove Parents Club in its drive for the field. At the last Orinda Chamber of Commerce meeting, John Ogden stated that he felt that the memorial was "most appropriate." An Arizona flagstone bench will bear the inscription: "Ben Randall Field."

Following the dedication, students will present a talent show under the direction of Donald Jesse, Master of ceremonies will be David McDowell.

OTHERS in the cast are Marguerite Guzzo, Jorene DeCosta, Janet Gilwee, Lorie Byrne, Jane Carbone, Kathy Creagmile, Holly Sweet, Barrie Brodick, Betsy Strong, C. D. ney Easterbrook, Pam Spaich and Liz Hansen.

Also taking part will be Ken Thomas, Stuart Raaka, Cindy Hamilton, Betsy Brock, Julie Hafner, Nancy Calavan, Janet Leffew, Lili Kelly, Marthe Hackett, Nancy Ratcliff, Sandy Jakle, Chris Anderson and Cecily Waterman.

Rooftop Burglars At Large

The burglars who entered two Orinda stores in the dark of last Thursday's dawn are still at large.

County sheriff's officers report that the case of the Orinda Pharmacy and Orinda Hardware robberies is under investigation.

THE BURGLARS first entered the hardware store, 56 Moraga Way, by cutting through a window to an upstairs office, M. E. Keyser, owner, told officers. They reached the window by climbing on top of an old refrigerator display case behind the pet store.

They climbed to a narrow neon sign and smashed the skylight window.

From the hardware store, they took eight revolvers, valued at $600, and the tools with which they used to break through the roof of the pharmacy.

OTHER ITEMS reported stolen from the hardware included: six transistor radios, a sledge hammer and nylon rope.

The burglars unsuccessfully attempted to break into the safe of the hardware store with a hammer, hatchet and hacksaw which they removed from the display cases. After breaking off the safe dial, they left the tools by the safe and went on to the gun cases and pharmacy roof.

Climbing back out on the roof, they went across the rooftops to the pharmacy. Using the tools from the hardware store, they cut a hole in the roof and lowered themselves (via the stolen nylon rope) into the drug store, according to the sheriff's report.

FRANK L. deLOS, manager of the pharmacy, reported that $30.47 in cash was missing. The burglar went through the narcotics drawer; however, none was reported missing.

He stated that the "heavy narcotics" were kept in the safe, which is controlled by a burglar alarm.

No fingerprints were found. One of the clues which the sheriff's department was working on was a price tag attached to a new keyhole saw.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' STATE—Miramonte Dean of Boys Robert Callan shows students Toni Ayers and Max Milton their invitation to attend Girls' and Boys' State this summer in Sacramento. The American Legion sponsored program encourages mock-government experiences in democracy at the annual Girls' and Boys' State conferences. High school students report back on their experiences to their fellow students at Miramonte when they return to school in the fall. Both candidates are currently juniors.

Little Boys Go Visiting

Two classmates at Orinda Nursery School gave their parents some anxious moments last week.

Cliff MacKinlay, 5, and Donald Teeter, 4, decided that it would be a nice day to visit another classmate, Lang O'Brien, who lives in the area beyond the filter plant.

At 3 p.m., their mothers noticed that they were missing. At 5:45 p.m., the county sheriff's office was notified. From that hour, until 7:30 p.m., when they were found, the sheriff's officers and neighbors combed the hills in the area of the boys' homes.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Teeter, 49 La Campana Drive, and Cliff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. MacKinlay, Jr., 159 Las Vegas.

At 7:30 p.m., MacKinlay found the boys sauntering along the road in the village. And they just couldn't figure out what all the fuss was about.

'Left Bank' of Orinda 'Festival of Arts' Will Bring Paree in Ze Spring

Those who have any doubt about the "artiness" of Orinda, will become convinced that it's a second Paris when they browse about the shops tomorrow.

"The left bank of Paris" will come to town from 10 a.m. till 3 p.m. The public is invited to tour the stores at the crossroads, plaza, and village to view some of the work of local artists.

The festival is sponsored by the Orinda Club, Senior Girl Scout Troop 156, Orinda Chamber of Commerce, and local schools.

Featured will be the work of local painters, potters, jewelers, weavers and are in related fields by both professionals, amateurs and school children.

Participating artists will set up their own displays. Committee members include: from Girl Scout Troop 156; Mrs. Blaine Snow and Mrs. Calvin Schaefer, who is chairman of the event.

From the woman's club: Mmes. Wallace Thaw, James Dutton, Earl Evans, Robert Bolman, Ted Toland, Marvin Carlisle, Patrick Henry, Earl Hill, George Paul and Walter Haeger.

Girl Scout Troop 156 will have from the white elephant booth in Black's market parking lot from 10 a.m. till 3 p.m. All types of art objects, kitchen gadgets, garden supplies, and children's items will be on sale, according to Mrs. Schaefer.

Proceeds from the white elephant bazaar will go to the girls' goodwill trip to the cabana in Mexico.

"We hope that this first festival of arts will be so successful that it will become an annual affair," said Mrs. Schaefer.

She prepared the following directory so that the public may find all the artists or just those in whom they may be interested.

At the post office and Lucky store will be exhibited the work of Orinda School art classes; Campolindo High School; and the Orinda Garden Club will have a booth on beautification and conservation.

Postal Pot in Moraga Boiling

The United States Post Office Department was informed Wednesday that Moragans object to the department's latest action in the Rheem-Moraga mail melee.

This week, a sign was posted in the Rheem Post Office announcing a name change to "Rheem Valley," effective July 1, 1963. The request had been made by Mortimer F. Withoff, vice president, in behalf of Rheem California Land Company.

THE BOARD of directors of the Moraga Valley Community Club, representing approximately 700 families in Moraga stated in a letter to Frederick C. Belen, assistant postmaster general, that it objects to the post office department's action because:

"It does not indicate a spirit of cooperation or concern for the views of the area's residents."

The board had asked that no action be taken on Withoff's request until a complete study of the Moraga postal situation was made. Until the study was complete (about July 1) and reviewed by postal authorities, the board felt that "an objective evaluation of the postal situation in Moraga could not be made."

In order to comply with postal regulations, Withoff stated that it was necessary to acquire signatures on a petition of the majority of boxholders at Rheem.

ALTHOUGH THIS was accomplished, the community club board pointed out that there are only 40 or 50 independent boxholders in the Rheem Post Office. "These are principally merchants in Rheem Center, which is located in and surrounded by the residential areas of Moraga," stated the letter signed by R. J. Kostyrka, president of the club.

"Therefore, an official name change by the post office department does affect the residential areas surrounding the center."

"The name 'Rheem Valley' is being promulgated by the Rheem California Land Company in all advertising and promotions for new housing developments in the area, whereas these homes actually are served by the Moraga Post Office and carry a Moraga address."

"ACCORDINGLY, the post office department's official action is not confined to the Rheem Post Office, but affects over 700 present residents and also additional future homeowners who will be buying homes in Moraga."

"We will conclude our study and will publish it within the next meeting, June 11," said Collings. (The regular meeting night June 12 will be graduation.)

"I would like to have more attention paid to the problem of the taxpayer as to whether this increase is necessary," he said.

HE ADDED that the cost of living had gone up 1.1 per cent. The former schedule called for a minimum of $5035 and maximum of $8855. The new schedule would set the minimum at $5100 and maximum $9900.

Teachers' salaries represent 60 per cent of the total school budget. It has not yet been presented by Superintendent William Knight.

The new schedule would put Moraga 8.1 per cent over Orinda's schedule and 7.05 per cent over Lafayette, according to Collings.

INDIVIDUALS will get low increases. He explained that tenure teachers have the advantage and would be given an additional increment of $275 under the new schedule.

For example, a new teacher might only receive a 1.3 per cent increase, while one with tenure in the district could get 13 per cent.

Superintendent Knight stated that recently he had 70 applications for seven teacher vacancies.

"If this is true, why is such a big increase necessary?" asked Collings.

At press time, Superintendent Knight was not available for comment.

Moraga Teachers Salary Hike May Come Up Again

Moraga teachers were granted a 5 1/2 per cent pay increase by the board of trustees for the Moraga district Wednesday night.

However the matter may be brought up again at the next meeting.

The vote was originally 4-1, with President Rex Collings dissenting. Collings, who is a professor of law at Boalt Hall, then changed his vote.

ACCORDING to Roberts Rules of Order, it is necessary to be on the prevailing side of a motion in order to move that it be reconsidered.

"I am definitely thinking of bringing the matter up for reconsideration at the board's

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Very Cold for May . . .

SHORT SUMMER, wasn't it? Sizzling & sunning on Saturday & Sunday . . . & back to sweaters & coats on Monday. . .

Heat Wave Highlights: June Hale having her Coke & drinking it, too, as she pushed the grocery cart through Lucky's . . . in which store, incidentally, the fake flowers, at a nickel a throw, are selling like proverbial pancakes . . . Dottie Rimers looking far from shiftless in a cool summer shift, dark glasses & a kind of Happy Hooligan straw hat.

ORINDA SCHOOL teeming w/ everybody for Saturday's Rotary Field Day . . . Chris Harnett kibitzing w/ sid Bailey who was having his own field day, much in the manner of a Santa Claus. It was Bailey's Ferris Wheel for a ride on which the kids gladly stood in line for hours. . .

Trader Bailey works over at Paine, Weber, Jackson & Curtis SF office where securities salesman Harnett hangs his hat. Bailey bought the ferris wheel more for the fun it would bring him than the kids, judging from his pleased expression.

Saturday started out cool & that's how suburbanites played it . . . A camel hair coat for Jean Vicens at RF Day which she couldn't wait to shed . . . A fluorescent paint get-up on one boy who was zany dressed for the big annual occasion.

HAVING A FIELD DAY . . . Dentist Gene Garbarino & Attorney Joe Longacre working a relay session together . . . Joe & Fran Dirickx, sideline spectators, cheering their son . . . Dick Hale engulfed by young pint-sized young men . . . Orinda Principal Burnham w/ his arm in a sling . . . Pine Grove's Verna Givens giving orders from a wheel chair . . . She broke that leg again!

Jean Hillis w/ a little Mouser in her arms looking for Lost Mama Nancy . . . & hot dogs being gulped down, snowcones being slurped up . . . legs leaping, jumping, running, dashing . . . perpetual motion as the noisy morning wore mothers out, but not the kids, & slowly turned into a first summery Saturday.

POOL'S OPEN . . . & over at Orinda Park, members inspecting the recently revamped premises . . . Many fine improvements at this oldest of Orinda pools, but many echoed they hoped it's not carried too far, taking away the real charm that belongs to Orinda Park.

THE NEW FENCING is handsome . . . but "what was wrong w/ the old one, which wasn't old" someone wanted to know. Before any more embellishments, there are those who feel the old bathhouses are due for improvements.

I LIKE THE new layout myself but am in complete commiseration w/ the gal who ventured . . . "If I wanted a modern pool, I'd have joined Meadow . . . or Sleepy Hollow." So, maybe the board will ask the membership next time before spending all that money?

Playing the Field . . .

COUNTRY CLOTHESLINE: Polly Wagener, wife of one of our state's star legal eagles, sporting a blue lace-knit sweater handmade by her daughter in the southland . . . The Wageners, incidentally, will roll out their Longridge Rd. carpet for a big blowout late June for Calif.'s top legal brass, including Governor Brown (maybe) & Supreme Court judges . . . Wagener is a member of the board of governors, California State Bar Ass'n.

DOROTHY KNOPF, mother of seven, has quite a time-saving device w/ her 'SOCK BOX' idea. The kids hunt for 'em in a large picnic hamper. But if a mate is missing, it ain't no picnic.

On the other hand, we hear of a busy mother of six who has a whole closet into which goes the dried laundry. She never lifts an iron for anything but her own clothes or her husband's. When her youngsters want clothes, they fetch 'em from the closet, press 'em themselves, & you know something? Those kids seldom look wrinkled. A couple of systems, for whatever they're worth! (TIME, mainly!)

NO GREATER LOVE HATH, etc.: The daughter of one of our most prominent families found herself short of funds for Mama's Day. Wanting to get Mom some flowers, she dipped into her brother's coin collection not realizing that she'd lifted a rare 1888 coin. Mom got her bouquet of flowers, all right, but on Monday morning, bright & early, The Flower Pot's proprietor, Marian Hendricksen, got a desperate call. Did she still have the money from Saturday's sales? Yes, luckily, she DID have it on hand. The grateful young lady showed up pronto, pocketed the rare moneypiece in exchange for some current currency & by now, we hope, is back in the good graces of her brother. And mother!

PUTTING ON THE DOG: Ten-year-old Lee James, dark-haired daughter of Esther & Walt James, showed her Shetland sheepdog Nina at the AKC Obedience Trials in Oakland last wknd. & came home w/ honors all over the place . . . For Lee & her dog, it was a first show, in the Novice "A" class . . . & out of 56 dogs entered, Lee & her lady pooch copped 4th prize honors. What's more, Lee was just one-half point from high-scoring girl in 16 & under . . . & Nina was highest scoring dog entered for first time in Novice A Class.

DON'T YOU USUALLY associate a fluent Spanish tongue w/ a dark-haired senorita? But not after you've heard the flow & rapidity w/ which our town's fair-haired Roni (Roslyn Sue) Rasmussen lets fly the Latin language . . . We heard her on her tutoring rounds. (Could have something to do w/ her heart being in Mexico ever since that family trip to Puerto Vallarta w/ sister Peg & Field & her husband. . .)

Roni, who enters the new Spanish college at U. of Pacific in Sept, has been awarded certificates of honor from both U. of P. & U.C. . . . She's a member of Phi Kappa Phi Nat'l Honor Society. BLONDE & Beautiful, she's the daughter of Ally & Lloyd Rasmussen.

MENTAL MEANDERINGS: Hazel Field, Bob's Mom, celebrated her B'Day on Mother's Day w/ Peg & Bob giving her a special dinner party . . . It's a fourth grandchild for pianist Pat Winters . . . & joining the jeune Grandmother ranks, per Pat Maginn wheeling the little blonde doll through the stores . . . She & Chris will soon have THREE grandchildren.

LIBRARY regulars: Pretty newcomer (looks like a rosy-cheeked schoolgirl) Juanita Wieber & her 4-yr.-old son Donald . . . Juanita is interested in locating a Great Books Discussion group if anyone knows of one active locally. She lives on Crestview Drive.

A PART OF ORINDA is up there climbing Mt. Everest, you might say. Construction man Raffi Bedayn, manufacturer of Karabiners which are safety links, outfitted the current American Everest Expedition w/ same. A Sierra Club member, Raffi knows the ropes of mountain climbing himself.

NOT THE EIFFEL TOWER, not the sidewalk cafes, did Blanche Brody rave about on her return from Europe. The biggest find for her were sidewalk machines that dispensed, for a quarter, a tiny tin of delectable fruit candies. "Like this?" she said, jumping up from lunch to reach in a commode drawer to produce several of the little tins from St. La Voisienne. Blanche was surprised. You don't have to go to Paris to find them—they sell 'em right here—both at Loard's & at Phair's for maybe a dime more.

"ARTICHOKES, Anecdotes & Antidotes" is one of the most clever cookbooks to crop up in my kitchen for a long time. Having a hand in gathering the recipes & producing the booklet to benefit Patients' Recreation are two local gals—Judy Howes & Christine Romine Davidson, both employees of the Berkeley hospital. One of the recipe contributors is Ruth Schoppe, assistant director of nursing, also of Orinda. The book's worth a dollar & makes a fine gift. If only for the comical Colliflor Au Pickle! offered by one of the medics.

'All You Can Eat for Four Bits'

"All you can eat for four bits." This is the way Bert Bennett, chairman of the Moraga Lions Club breakfast describes the club's annual breakfast. It will be Sunday, starting at 9 a.m. at Marini's restaurant, Rheem Center.

The 50-cent breakfast will include "generous" portions of juices, hot cakes, sausages, milk and coffee, according to Bennett. He says that the affair will continue until all customers are served.

"Among the master chefs who will be volunteers for the breakfast are the following Lions: Art Fleuti, John Mekonis, John deGuarda, Keith Tice, Dick Putnam, and myself," according to Bennett. "And the old pro Marini will also pitch in."

Jack Taylor is in charge of publicity.

Library Shows Czaja's Work

Michael Czaja, internationally known artist and architect, has his works exhibited at the Orinda library through May. The Orinda Art Center is sponsor. Czaja is a professor of architecture at the University of California, Berkeley. Czaja, who resides in Walnut Creek with his wife and family, just returned from a year's sabbatical in Japan.

He has exhibited extensively throughout the United States. In the Bay Area, his works have been at the California Palace of Legion of Honor and the San Francisco Museum.

Bartle Is Speaker in Las Vegas

Richard M. Bartle, newly elected member of the board of trustees of the Orinda Union School District, was a speaker at the Las Vegas Rotary Club Thursday at the Tropicana Hotel, Las Vegas, Nevada.

Bartle, a general partner of Stone and Youngberg, municipal financing consultants of San Francisco, resides at 238 Hall Drive, Orinda.

His topic was: "Problems of Financing Capital Improvements in Mushrooming Communities." He dwelled on the problem's attendant to Las Vegas' quick growth.

Lew Newcomer, program chairman, informed the Las Vegas Rotarians that Bartle had recently helped the Orinda school district sell $5 million in bonds "at the most favorable interest rate the district has received to date."

Bartle recently retired as chairman of the planning committee of the Orinda Association. He held this position for six years and still serves as a member of the committee.

FAMILY OF THE WEEK

WILLIAM AND VIRGINIA HECHTMAN AND CLAN Peter, 10; Rover; Nancy, 16; Jud, 12 Planning Nancy's trip to Mexico

—Sun photo

A Global Discussion . . .

BOTH ASTRONAUT Cooper's celestial orbits as well as daughter Nancy's forthcoming earthbound trip to Mexico came in for broad discussion this week at the William Hechtman household.

Nancy, a veteran Girl Scout member, has been eager-beaver at work for months earning funds for the forthcoming trip by Troop 156 to The Cabana in Mexico. And while she's been industriously filling her piggy banks (plural), the rest of the family has pitched in to help her dream come true.

Mother "Kelly" has helped gather rummage, white elephants (to be featured at the Girl Scout booth in tomorrow's Orinda Festival of Arts) and has volunteered help with the many cake sales and various money-making activities of Nancy's Troop to see their summer trip come true. Dad Bill and brothers Jud and Peter have lent moral support, too.

THE HECHTMAN youngsters, newcomers to Orinda in 1962 from Santa Clara, are now hiking the same hills and viewing the same vistas that their mother did as a child when growing up here as the daughter of Mrs. Amelia Hickok and the late George Hickok. In fact, Mom's lovely old "homestead," a favorite house in El Toyonal neck of the woods, is right down the back hill from the Hechtmans' new house at 62 Loma Vista.

When daughter Nancy was born, "Kelly" and Bill lived for a while in the little house across the road from the former Hickok home. The house was later occupied by Kelly's sister, the late Mildred Farrar who distinguished herself in community and civic planning.

"THE SAME TREES" climbed as a kid are still there for the boys . . . and some of the short cuts, too. But things were different back in 1937 when Mom and Dad were part of the pioneer movement here," says the vivacious Kelly. For one thing, Kelly commuted to Mt. Diablo High School on the old Sacramento-Northern train. "Plenty of time to do homework both coming and going."

The former Virginia Hickok (Virginia is the informal Kelly's formal name) majored in child development at U.C. After service in the Marine Corps Women's Reserve, she married the native Sacramento she'd met on the Berkeley campus.

NO UNSUNG HERO around his household is Bill Hechtman, easygoing man, who herds and hauls the youngsters and their friends to whatever swim meet or sports activity is current on the calendar. Hechtman, also a U.C. graduate, is district plant engineer for Pacific Telephone in San Francisco.

Great Books Class Has Final Meeting

A pot luck supper was held recently to conclude this year's class of "Orinda Great Books."

Mrs. Roger Porter, 77 Claremont Avenue, Orinda, was the hostess.

The next "Orinda Great Books" class will begin September 10. The class will meet every second and third Tuesday of each month at St. Stephen's Church, Orinda, from 8-10 p.m.

Call Oliver Kellogg at 254-8526 for additional information.

Hats Off To...

Ann Swanson, Veteran Girl Scout Enthusiast

AN ARMFUL OF RED ROSES, please, for Ann (Mrs. Stanley) Swanson, one of the best boosters for the Girl Scouts program and nine-year leader of Troop 156 (the lucky group of girls who are off to Mexico this summer).

TREMENDOUSLY enthusiastic about Girl Scouts, Ann gets more accomplished despite a daily secretarial job. On her Mondays "off," she works at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in the morning and saves the free afternoon for her "girls."

AS if she doesn't see enough of them, she's taking her annual three-week vacation this year with the industrious group that's been working all year towards a tour of Mexico and a stay at The Cabana, one of the two international G.S. hostels in the world.

PRIOR TO Orinda residency, Ann and her husband Stanley and daughter Judy were city folk where she was active in scouting across the bay. Victims of a storm havoc years ago at their first home on Alta Vista, the Swansons have since lived in a new home they built for themselves off Charles Hill Road.

Ann's daughter, Judy, a member of the senior troop Mom heads, will be missing on the trip to Mexico. Judy left last Saturday with her Swedish grandparents for a summer stay in the Scandinavian country.

IN PRAISE OF HER ambitious and energetic girls, Ann rates a last-minute plug for the "Festival of Arts" to be held tomorrow in the Village Plaza shopping area. The day with a "Left Bank Look" was the brainstorm of her troop who will have a last fling at fund-raising (for their adventure) via a White Elephant Booth and a Food Booth.

The Girl Scouting program is even better for the likes of women like Ann Swanson.—M.M.

Campout Held By Troop 207

Boy Scout Troop 207 held its annual spring campout the week end of May 11-12 at the Mt. Diablo Council camp on Mt. Diablo, Camp Force.

The 23 scouts participating in the campout were led by Senior Patrol Leader Kit Renwick and Assistant Scoutmaster Russ Usinger.

Throughout the campout the patrols of the troop were tested and graded on their skill in cooking, scoutcraft and setting up

School Unification: Another Meeting Is Needed

By GEORGE COLBURN

When will it end?

That's what the county committee on school district organization is trying to figure out; that's what a lot of interested Central Contra Costa County residents are probably wondering.

"Plan F" unification for the western end of the Alacanes Union High School District was apparently approved Tuesday night in Orinda.

We say apparently because there's no telling what might happen next.

IT WAS learned at the meeting, however, that at least one more meeting must be held in the eastern sector because the committee again stumbled on a legal technicality.

We say at least one more meeting because past experience warns us not to assume.

The next meeting will be held June 5, 8 p.m., in the board room of the Lafayette School District administration building.

Perk A. Slingsby, a member-at-large from Alamo, was not eligible to vote at the April 16 meeting of the county committee and representatives of the eastern school districts (Lafayette, Walnut Creek plus Alacanes), it was learned Tuesday night.

Dr. Frank Bradford, assistant county superintendent of schools, explained that Slingsby was appointed at a meeting of the county committee, October 22, 1962, when only five members of the committee were present.

THE "LAW" of unification states, however, that a quorum is necessary when a new member is officially "installed."

The eastern vote was 8-3 in favor of the Plan F with three members absent.

Subtracting Slingsby's vote, the county committee does not have the necessary "yes" majority of the committee plus augmented members.

In the west the committee has 15 votes when augmented; in the east it has 14 votes when augmented. In both cases eight votes is always needed to approve or reject.

Quickly, and hardly without a murmur of comment, the committee augmented by Orinda, Canyon, Moraga and Alacanes school district representatives approved Plan F by a 10-2 vote with three committee members absent.

Sidney Webb of Orinda, hard-working antagonist of the plan, attended the meeting, but let the committee go through the motions without interruption. The meeting lasted only a few minutes.

DISSENTING members were W. M. Leath of the county committee and Ralph Hall, representing the high school trustees.

This was the second meeting of the augmented committee in the west.

When Orinda failed to show for the vote April 30, Plan F could gather only seven yes votes.

J. Gordon Ainsworth, president of the Orinda school board, was present and voted yes Tuesday.

Slingsby also voted yes—and was "eligible," Bradford said.

In both east and west, two rounds of public hearings were required when a quorum of committee members were not present the first time around.

THE COMMITTEE didn't know this was necessary until after the hearings were concluded.

There followed a second round of public hearings. After these, the committee met April 30 for a vote on Plan F with western representatives.

With only seven yes votes, they returned this week.

Now, it's back to Lafayette for the second vote there, June 5.

If the committee manages eight votes, Plan F will be submitted to the State Board of Education.

The plan must be presented by September 15.

The committee plans to wait until at least September 1 because of a "gentlemen's agreement" with the local school districts.

The eight other "yes" votes Tuesday might come from Larry Williams, Canyon; Larry Haskell, Moraga; Dr. Jack Shabbazzian, committee chairman; Mrs. Marian McAdams, Mrs. Margaret Plummer, Robert E. Reed, Frank E. Loher and George W. Jeffries, all committee members.

Absent were Albert Ellis, Fabian F. Richart and Francis Brady.

Property Rights Vs. Civil Rights

Drastic revision appears in store for the state fair housing bill, but representatives of the Contra Costa Fair Play Council in Sacramento Wednesday for committee hearings could be heartened by author Assemblyman William Byron Rumford's prediction that the committee "will come out with a good bill."

If it does, it won't be until legislators have pondered the proposal for at least another week after discussing it extensively Wednesday.

It has been held up for further consideration by the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee.

AT THE SAME time, the issue of housing segregation and its results was tackled on all sides in Contra Costa.

The county Board of Education came out with a stand urging all school officials to make an "all out campaign against segregation."

The Contra Costa Board of Realtors called legislation such as Rumford's a "case of burning down the house to destroy the pests."

And the Fair Play Council circulated among members a letter labelling the Realtors' "Property Owners' Bill of Rights" the "Louisiana housing policy" and "an appeal to discriminate on the basis of race, color or national ancestry."

FROM THE COUNTY school board:

"It is and has been the policy of the board of education that persons or agencies responsible for the establishment of school attendance centers or the assignment of pupils thereto shall exert all effort to avoid segregation."

"While segregation as such has not been a problem in Contra Costa County, virtual all-white or all-Negro school attendance has resulted in some instances from the housing patterns of the neighborhood."

FROM THE REALTORS:

"Embodied in Bill 1240 is a revocation of part of the 14th Amendment: 'nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or PROPERTY (sic).'"

"By making it unlawful to let the property owner freely choose the person to whom he wishes to sell or rent (the bill) deprives that owner of this free choice."

"The intention of Bill 1240 is highly commendable. The moral is laudable. But the method and resultant denial of choice to property owners are contrary to what this country's founders fought so gallantly for."

FROM THE FAIR Play Council (regarding the Realtors' highly-publicized "Property Owners' Bill of Rights"):

"We believe property rights are so basic in a democracy that these rights should be enjoyed by all men . . . We further believe that the property owners' so-called 'Bill of Rights' is another attempt to deny this basic right to a large segment of the citizens of the United States."

"We believe the authentic Bill of Rights was never meant to be a document to enable one citizen to discriminate against another citizen on the basis of race, color, or creed, and to assert otherwise is spurious and dishonest."

"THE SO-CALLED 'Bill of Rights' is not an appeal for greater freedom, but only an appeal to discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color or national ancestry."

"It would try to deny the rights of those of us who do not want to discriminate."

"We feel that this so-called 'Bill of Rights' would deny this choice even to the realtor who did not want to discriminate, and we want further to state that we would want to support those realtors who wanted to maintain the freedom not to discriminate."

Dissent Voiced Over Court Consolidation

An emergency ordinance was passed Tuesday by the county board of supervisors consolidating the Clayton judicial court with the Concord municipal court.

The action was initiated by Supervisor Ed Linscheid, who declared it was justified because the Clayton court was handling only 11 filings a month and Concord Municipal Court Judge Louis J. McKannay had resigned because of ill health.

THE SUPERVISORS' action will probably mean that Wroy Renaghan of the Clayton court probably will be elevated to the higher bench to take Judge McKannay's place.

District Attorney John Nejedly gave his nod of approval to the supervisors' action on Tuesday.

After the meeting Supervisor Mel Nielsen was asked by The Sun if passage of the emergency ordinance meant that the governing group was in a mood to instigate similar court consolidations in other parts of the county—a consolidation that has been recommended by the Grand Jury and the Judicial Council.

"I KNOW that the people of Danville and Crockett wouldn't go for it," he said.

"Judge Betsy Rahn of the Walnut Creek court already has too much to do. I don't think she could handle all that additional workload."

The supervisors weren't unanimous in endorsing the emergency ordinance proposed by Linscheid Tuesday.

Supervisor Joe Silva was the lone dissenter on the vote tally, and Nielsen said he was giving a "hesitant yes."

CHAIRMAN James Kenny went along with the proposal, but declared he felt it might be "too hasty action."

Linscheid said persons of the Clayton area would have to travel only four miles to have their judicial matters settled in the Concord court.

He repeatedly stated that no persons in the Clayton area had expressed opposition to his sudden plan to try for the court consolidation. He added that the Clayton constable could easily "blend in" with the Concord court—"so no one's losing his job."

JUDGE McKannay has submitted his resignation to Governor Edmund G. Brown. Judge McKannay, 52, was elected in 1958.

High School Trustees OK Additions at New School

Alacanes district trustees Wednesday night gave the architect a "go ahead" on preliminary plans for a multi-use room and a wood and metal shop at Campolindo High School.

The plan is scheduled to come up for bid this August, with completion set for the opening of school in 1964.

The governing board of the high school district also sanctioned purchase of two buses on a low bid by Gillig Brothers at $16,270 each; and accepted a low bid by Gallagher and Burke for construction of six tennis courts at district schools for $24,000.

Board members discussed and took under continued advisement a request by non-certified personnel for a 6 per cent pay hike and fringe benefits.

The pay increase was reported by Superintendent Neil M. Parsons to cost around $35,000.

IN OTHER action, the high school board:

1) Noted announcement of a hearing by the county planning commission of an appeal by Anthony Lagiss for construction of a car wash opposite Alacanes High on Pleasant Hill Road.

The appeal will be heard at Martinez, June 4, at 7:30 p.m. The board opposes the appeal.

2) Received a letter from King Parker Realty describing plans for a "Town and Country" type shopping center to be built north of Las Lomas High.

The high school board did not oppose the commercial center, but did request that the developers consider fencing their project where it is adjacent to high school property "to enable the school to maintain its 'closed campus' rule which prohibits students from leaving school grounds during the school day."

3) Approved appointment of department heads, head counselors and athletic directors at each high school for the coming year.

4) Voted a resolution of appreciation to Mrs. Richard Leland, a resident of the district community, for her interest and support of the Science and Humanities Seminars for pupils of local high schools which she has helped to promote and organize.

Army Ambulance Rolls Off Road

Five persons were hurt during the week in central county traffic accidents, two of them involving vehicles that rolled over. One vehicle was an army ambulance that rolled over on Bolinger Canyon Road two miles west of Crow Canyon Road.

The driver, Julius J. Warthen, 23, and John D'Amore, 18, were slightly injured. Both are stationed with a missile battalion.

ALSO ON Sunday, Donald R. Parkhill, 25, of Oakland, was injured when his car went out of control on Taylor Boulevard north of the Pleasant Hill Road overpass, and rolled over.

The Highway Patrol said Parkhill was northbound on Taylor when he became startled at a motorist passing him on the right-hand side.

Parkhill was taken to the county hospital in Martinez.

Police said two men were hurt Saturday when one of the drivers fell asleep at the wheel of his car which was traveling along Ridge Road, west of Grover Lane, south of Walnut Creek.

DEXTER C. JONES, 29, of 1305 Milton Avenue, Walnut Creek, said he fell asleep and later he awakened a moment later his car was over in the oncoming lane. The second driver, Clifford E. Malone, 43, of 2121 Stewart Avenue, Walnut Creek, couldn't swerve his car in time to avoid the crash.

An Eye-Witness Report on Agung Volcano Eruption

(Ed. Note: This is a report from Herman Silverman, The Sun's editor-publisher, while on The Sun Orient Holiday.)

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Denpasar, Bali, Indonesia (delayed)—Last night (May 16) we saw the Agung Volcano erupt violently, throwing huge burning boulders miles into the sky.

Agung's eruption in March killed over 200 Balinese and left 300,000 homeless. The volcano has been smoldering since then.

At 6 p.m. last night, the volcano, highest mountain on Bali Island, started belching black volcanic ash, which is still continuing. This volcanic mushroom cloud has darkened the sky for hundreds of miles.

EXPLOSIONS were heard 250 miles away and searing lava moved down 8000 feet of the 10,000-foot mountain. We could not see the lava flow because it is on the inaccessible east side of the volcano.

We (Eleanor Silverman and this writer) flew out of Bali at 2 p.m. today for Djakarta. We could not see Agung because of the black volcanic fog.

The Garuda Indonesian Airlines could not land at Surabaya (Java Island, main Indonesian Island) because the volcanic ash cloud had completely darkened the airport and town. Surabaya is several hundred miles from the erupting volcano.

Thousands of Balinese have been ordered to evacuate Klungkung and hundreds of villages in eastern Bali, under the shadow of Agung.

"We fear earthquakes, which could burst dams in the Klungkung area," K. Surahardja, Indonesian official in Denpasar, told this writer. He said they do not know how many people were killed.

ON OUR flight today from Bali to Djakarta, the Garuda pilot flew near the Raung volcano and circled Mt. Semeru volcano, both in South Java. We saw gas escaping from both volcanoes and took movies of them.

On our flight to Bali earlier in the week, the pilot flew miles out of his way, so that the passengers could see the dangerous Agung erupting gas. The clouds cleared briefly from one side and we took pictures.

Yesterday we drove to the Lake Batur area, just west of the Agung volcano. We saw hundreds of square miles of rich rice paddies and farm land covered with inches of grey-black volcanic ash. Villages have been ruined on the eastern slope. The March lava flow and heat left 100,000 homeless, as well as killing more than 2000.

Near the extinct Batur volcano we watched the clouds clear up around Agung, some 20 miles away. We took movies of the steam pouring from the volcano.

Tomorrow we leave Djakarta, capital of Indonesia, to Bangkok, via Cathay Pacific Airways.

Young People's Group Plans Special Concert

Walnut Creek, Concord, Orinda and Lafayette high school musicians will climax their careers this year with the Young People's Symphony Orchestra with a special concert today at 8:30 p.m. at Berkeley Auditorium Theatre.

Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Berkeley for the 14th year, the concert proceeds will go to support the orchestra and for other youth projects backed by the Kiwanis Club. General admission will be $1.50 and for students, 50 cents.

CONCERTMASTER Neal Oshiro and first violinist Brian Johnson were chosen for the orchestra from Concord.

Orinda musicians are Claudia Craig, first violin; Meredith Brown, viola, and Terry Coleman, second violin.

First violinist Sally Macduff represents Lafayette.

Larry Moran, first violin and Janet Disch, second violin, are members of the orchestra who travel from Walnut Creek.

SHARING THE May 24 concert program with the Young People's Symphony will be the Berkeley Teen Dance Workshop, performing Saint-Saens' "Carnival of the Animals," a zoological fantasy using as libretto a poem by Ogden Nash.

Lewis Bennett, formerly of the Straw Hat Theatre in San Francisco, will serve as narrator for the ballet. Conductor will be Thomas Haynes.

Tickets may be obtained now from members of the orchestra in central Contra Costa, in Berkeley at Hink's Library and in Oakland at Sherman-Clay.

Every Day Is Memorial Day At Heart Assn.

"Memorial Day at the Contra Costa County Heart Association is every day," said Dr. Irving Fien, president of the Contra Costa County Heart Association.

He was referring to memorial gifts made to the Heart Association for its research program.

"These gifts are a lasting tribute to the memory of loved ones and are put to work immediately in the effort to find the cause and cure of heart disease," Dr. Fien stated.

A total of $4754.42 was received from this source during the first quarter of this year, the Heart Association reports.

Memorial gifts receive first priority for action in the Heart Association office at 1541 East Street, Walnut Creek.

Receipts from residents of local communities for the memorial gift program during the first three months of 1963 included:

Alamo, $160; Danville-Diablo, $139; Lafayette, $461.25; Orinda, $241.50; Pleasant Hill, $102.75; and Walnut Creek, $182.

Defeated Transit Foes Will Appeal: Birenbaum

By WALT WRIGHT

Rapid transit for central Contra Costa County by 1968—despite the delay of a lawsuit and possible appeal to the State Supreme Court—was promised yesterday by Bay Area Rapid Transit District spokesmen.

District directors yesterday discussed an interim financing proposal which will enable BARTD to proceed immediately with full and final design of routes while the appeal is pending.

At the same time, David E. Birenbaum, attorney for the four suing taxpayers defeated by Superior Court Judge Martin E. Rothenberg's decision Friday, said his clients "most definitely" would appeal.

COUNSEL FOR BARTD, John Bates, told The Sun the legal steps remaining, even with an appeal, would create no financial problems for the district.

He said he would have filed a judgment based on Rothenberg's decision by today, thus beginning to tie up the loose ends of the legal procedures.

"Birenbaum will have five days to challenge our version of the judgment—which we anticipate—and then a hearing will probably be set to resolve disagreements over language," Bates said.

Following that hearing, Birenbaum has 60 days in which to appeal the decision and its employees from all charges against them.

ROTHENBERG, who made his final ruling Friday, said that the public information program, and the salary paid to Information Director B. R. Stokes to conduct it, were legal.

And he maintained that the engineers employed by the district did not have a fiduciary (trust) relationship with the district and could not have violated it as charged by Birenbaum.

Earlier he had ruled the engineering contracts and $792 million bond issue valid.

At the same time, Rothenberg dissolved the restraining order which has paralyzed BARTD since December.

DISTRICT General Manager John M. Pierce said yesterday that directors would take the advice of financial counsel and delay the sale of the first bonds until December, by which time any possible appeal of Rothenberg's decision conceivably could be heard and resolved.

To obtain funds immediately, Pierce indicated, the district will market "bond-anticipation notes."

With these funds, spokesmen said, the district will:

1. Reassemble the engineering teams dissolved during the months of delay since December.

2. Draw up final designs fixing the final location of routes and stations.

3. UPDATE construction schedules. ("The project has been delayed anywhere from six months to a full year—regardless of a possible appeal," a spokesman said. "But we still plan to provide rapid transit service to the entire central Contra Costa area by 1968.")

4. Enter into negotiation for public and private properties in the right-of-way or at station sites. ("We want to get title as quickly as possible to protect the district from the normal growth in property values.")

5. Determine whether or not Pleasant Hill will be the site of a five-mile transit test track. ("There's been no further development of this proposal; it will be one of our early decisions.")

Urge Transit Countersuit Against Four

A countersuit against the four taxpayers whose court action halted the Bay Area Rapid Transit District for five months has been urged by the Committee for Rapid Transit Now.

Spokesmen for the small pro-transit group made the recommendation to the district board yesterday.

The taxpayers lost their action on all counts with a decision in the superior court of Judge Martin E. Rothenberg Friday.

The committee's letter to the board said it was important to reassure voters that their decision at the polls November 6 "is not subject to irresponsible attempts to set it aside."

The group urged the district to "investigate thoroughly the possibility of bringing counteraction against the four plaintiffs, under section 29292 of the Public Utilities Code."

Teens: Use The Sun to Get Job

Starting June 7 teenagers can get an assist from The Sun in getting summer employment.

The Sun, as in previous years, will offer free want ads to any teen-age student whose parents are subscribers.

The boy or girl can use up to 10 words to tell his story in the search for a job.

The teen-age student must come to either of the two Sun offices—1001 Oak Hill Road, Lafayette, or 1320 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, to personally fill out the want-ad form.

All ads must be turned in by 4 p.m. each Friday during June and July.

The want ad will then appear in The Sun the following week.

Teens can start filling out the forms for their want ads on Friday, March 31.

The first ads will appear June 7.

Moraga Memo

Dew Doesn't Dampen Spirits...

By YVONNE MAIZEY

DARK SKIES and the clouds hanging over my head like the forecast of doom as I wake up in a damp world with the fields of wild flowers bowing to the light breezes, as it sprinkles again after two weeks of lovely sunny weather.

Shirley and Bill hovey and family return to the cloudy valley after a sunshiny trip to So. Cal. to visit Disneyland and Knotts Berry Farm, and San Simeon Castle via the return route. They took the trip via route 99 one way and back along the beautifully scenic coast Hwy. 1.

ANOTHER ADDITION: Ed and Florie Bisar were blessed with another blessed event. A girl born May 13th at Kaiser, weighing in at 9 lbs. 13½ oz. The new girl was named Florence Regina, after her mother. The new Florence will even up the Bisar family to four boys and four girls! Congratulations!

Congratulations or Condolences: I don't know which go to Trudy Hoover the new Moraga Neighborhood Chairman for the Girl Scouts. Before now we were always incorporated with the Orinda G. Scouts. Faye Parker will be the Organizer and Jean Bridenbach, Consultant. We know these gals will all do a wonderful job.

NEWCOMERS Membership Chairman Lee Paris would like to welcome new members Marg and Walter Dunzweiler of Sanders Dr. to the Club.

Dinner Dance: Joan Poor, Publicity, announces the Newcomers Dinner Dance will be held tonight in the Churchhill Room, new addition to the Claremont. Cocktails in the Terrace Room at 7:30. Dinner and dancing at 8:30 in the Churchhill Room. Janet Reinecke is chairman with Donna Sorensen, Emile Miles, and Pamela Marx helping.

Newcomers morning coffee will be held June 3rd at Louise Hubbards' at 10 a.m. for a get acquainted. Any new residents within the last year may call Lee Paris, 376-5694. The regular meeting of the club will be June 4th. There will be a lecture by Oscar Paris (a Prof. at Cal.). He will lecture on first aid procedures which we will all be needing during the summer. Also what accommodations are given by Contra Costa first aid and Red Cross.

SUMMER SCHOOL: Principal Robert Trask would like to mention that Moraga has a summer school sign up of 274 students. Remember, summer school this year will be held at Camino Pablo. Classes are filling fast and there will have to be some switching and combining of classes such as reading and language which doesn't have enough sign ups for two separate classes.

Population Explosion! Don't know what happened in '56, but we sure had a bumper crop of children. They are loading the schools. Summer school sign up for second graders is 48, and in the regular schools they are overflowing the three schools. Next year Rheem will be a K thru 6th, C.P. a K thru 8th and the Old Moraga School will be used to start off the session. Bids to the new building will be within the month.

CARROLL COUNTRY Club party "A Night of Wine and Roses" will be tomorrow night. Cocktails at 6:30 p.m. dinner from 7:30 to 9. There will be dancing and live entertainment from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Joe Navone has planned this affair with a limited reservation of 50 couples at $8 per couple.

The Carroll Club Pool opened May 15th, Tuesday thru Sunday. There will be a lifeguard on duty weekends only until school is out. Then open seven days a week, with lifeguard on duty daily. Guest fee will again be 75 cents. Roaring Twenties — Carroll Club is planning its Roaring Twenties party for June 22nd. Be sure to hold this date.

Be sure to all come to the Lions Pancake Breakfast, Sunday morning at Marinis, before church, after church, or in between time. They will be serving from 9 a.m. till noon. Let's all bring our families and get together for breakfast. All you can eat 50 cents a person!

DEVIN DRIVE Daddies Don Bryant and Frenchie Doublet flew home for the weekend to be with their families—both of whom plan to move to Wisconsin after school is out, to join their respective Daddies, who have been transferred.

A nostalgic cocktail party was given for the neighbors by the irrepresible Frenchman Saturday night. Guests of Honor included two executive secretaries, both named Dot. The girls were house guests of the Doublets on their return to the head office from a Hawaiian holiday. They flew off with Frenchie Sunday a.m. after his whirlwind last visit to Moraga (till moving day arrives).

BABY SHOWER for Jean Blackmur. Jean took awhile, but the Moraga bug finally caught up with her. Fran Swanson, 131 Donald Dr., a neighbor of Jeans, had a shower for her Wednesday eve, with 15 guests present, neighbors and a few close friends from out of the immediate area. Jean has a boy and a girl 11 and 9. So this is like starting all over again.

"LOLITA" OF WALNUT CREEK is playing the second female lead in "Mister Roberts," now at the Geary in The City. Only other woman in the cast is Merla Zellerbach. "Lolita" is a long haired, soulful eyed goat from the Walnut Creek goat farm of attractive Doreen Ross.

PLEASANT HILL AND GORDON'S space flight were related by marriage, according to a flash we received from Japan. The city's tie-in with the successful record orbit was via Technical Sergeant Ronald R. Jezalia, a rescue and survival supervisor who was "specially selected as a member of the search and rescue support forces of the Air Force Air Rescue Service."

Although Sergeant Jezalia is really from Chicago, he is the husband of the former Bebe Remley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Remley of 157 Agnes Way, Pleasant Hill.

SENTIMENTAL JOURNEY—This year's confirmation class at St. Luke's Lutheran Church will be taken on a field trip to Stanford University tomorrow by their pastor, Rev. David H. Romeis. After lunching at the Stanford Golf Club, the group will tour the Stanford Memorial Church. They couldn't have a better guide—Rev. Romeis was formerly assistant chaplain at Stanford University.

JOHN, CALL THE PENTAGON!—Army expenditures may get a frown from our Congressman, John F. Baldwin. Seems the Department of the Army, sending information about the West Point graduation of an Alamo man, doesn't even know he's around.

The cadet, they said, was appointed to West Point by "former Representative John F. Baldwin Jr."

For that cut, the Army deserves a slash—right in the budget!

TRY YOUR SON'S BIKE—Even though a full trial has been held on rapid transit following voter approval of the bond, the foes of BARTD still aren't giving up. After being a part of the late-morning traffic jams on the tunnel road into Oakland Monday and Tuesday of this week, (and these are hardly rare), commuters must be wondering who those guys fighting transit are. Surely they aren't commuters. And if they are, they must have soft jobs and no clock to punch—because no one in their right mind would be against "rapid" transit after being a part of the "slow" transit system for these many years. A bike ride through the tunnel could have beat any car on the first two mornings of this week.

REMEMBER THE OLD DAYS? Even modern-day kids can remember them now. In Orinda there's no place like the ice-cream parlor for the youngsters. Since a few weeks ago, however, the kids can't even buy a 10-cent ice-cream cone. Prices at Loard's went up to 15 cents for a single dip leaving many of the younger set able to "window-shop" only. Even though they can count their ones on their fingers, they long for the good old days when a thin dime would buy an ice-cream cone.

SURRENDER? — At Lafayette's western entrance there is a sign. It doesn't say "welcome" but it does say "Lafayette, The Sunshine Valley." The emblems of the service clubs in town are stationed below. The sign lost its sunshine some time ago. After the chamber of commerce failed to replace "the sunshine," the "e" in valley disappeared. Now missing is one of the emblems. Oh well, what's the use. So what if everybody entering Lafayette from the west sees a mutilated sign. These persons are either "regulars" who don't care or visitors who will be impressed—in the wrong way.

FLOP, ITALIAN STYLE—Segretto di Belezza, the swank beauty shoppe with the "Secret of Beauty" shut its doors in Orinda Village before most people could pronounce the name. Now there's practically no place in the county which advertises leg waxing for five bucks (or lira as they say in Italy). The shop had a posh champagne opening a few months back.

Three of the operators, Pat, Eileen and Ilga have opened their own shop, the down-to-earth "Country Coiffures" down the road at 99 Orinda Way.

Chiropractors Install Five

Alameda-Contra Costa Chiropractic Society installed officers last week at an Oakland dinner meeting.

President Dr. W. Anderson, El Sobrante; first vice-president, Dr. A. Doss, Albany; second vice-president, Dr. C. Hightower, Hayward; secretary, Dr. R. Sowinski, Martinez; and treasurer, Dr. A. Westorf, Pleasant Hill.

Highway Work Opening Area Up

$19 Million Work Continues; Expect Slash Next Year

Highway construction funds budgeted for Contra Costa will drop sharply during fiscal 1963-64 while over $19 million worth of 1962-63 projects move toward completion.

Contra Costa, second to Alameda in state highway expenditures during the present fiscal year, will soon drop to eighth among the nine Bay Area counties with $1.4 million budgeted for work here.

Meanwhile, the division of highways announced in preparation for National Highway Week (May 26-June 1), the following work is under way:

Interstate 680
Approximately 35 per cent of the work has been completed on the contract to close the 1.7-mile gap of Interstate freeway between Willow Pass Road and near Monument Boulevard in Concord.

Funds in the amount of $5,480,000 have been allotted for this contract, which includes extending State Sign Route 24 between Monument Boulevard and Olivera Street, a distance of 3.8 miles.

North of Willow Pass Road, Interstate 680 has been open to traffic to the Benicia-Martinez Bridge since November, 1962.

WHEN THE PROJECT is completed in the summer of 1964, access to the freeway will be provided at Monument Boulevard, Willow Pass Road, Concord Avenue and Solano Way.

A traffic interchange will also be provided between Interstate 680 and Sign Route 24.

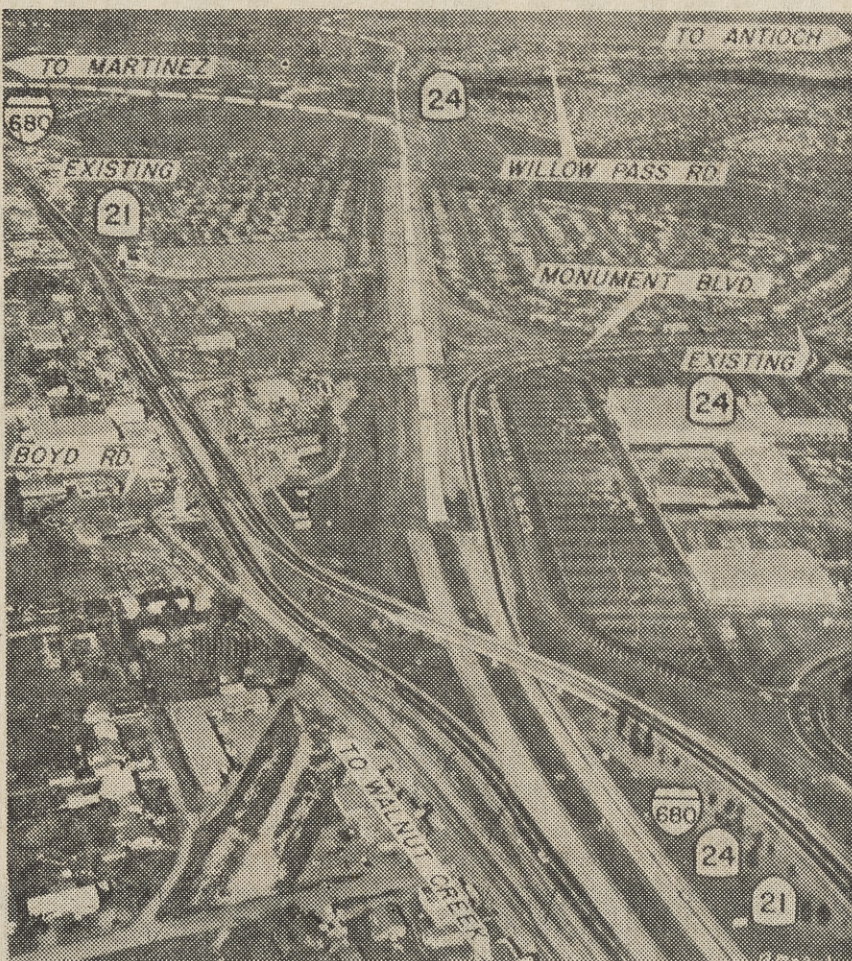

Present operations include grading, placing of base material and construction of drainage facilities; as well as work in all stages on the nine structures on the project.

Design studies are in progress for adding lanes within the median between Crest Avenue in Walnut Creek and the intersection of Interstate 680 and Sign Route 24 north of Monument Boulevard.

SOUTH OF Walnut Creek, the largest freeway contract ever let in the Bay Area is under way. $13,750,000 has been allotted for construction of six and three-quarters miles of four-lane freeway between Walnut Creek and one mile south of Danville, bypassing the presently congested two-lane highway.

This project includes 5,900,000 cubic yards of excavation, the majority of which will be used to construct embankments within the project limits.

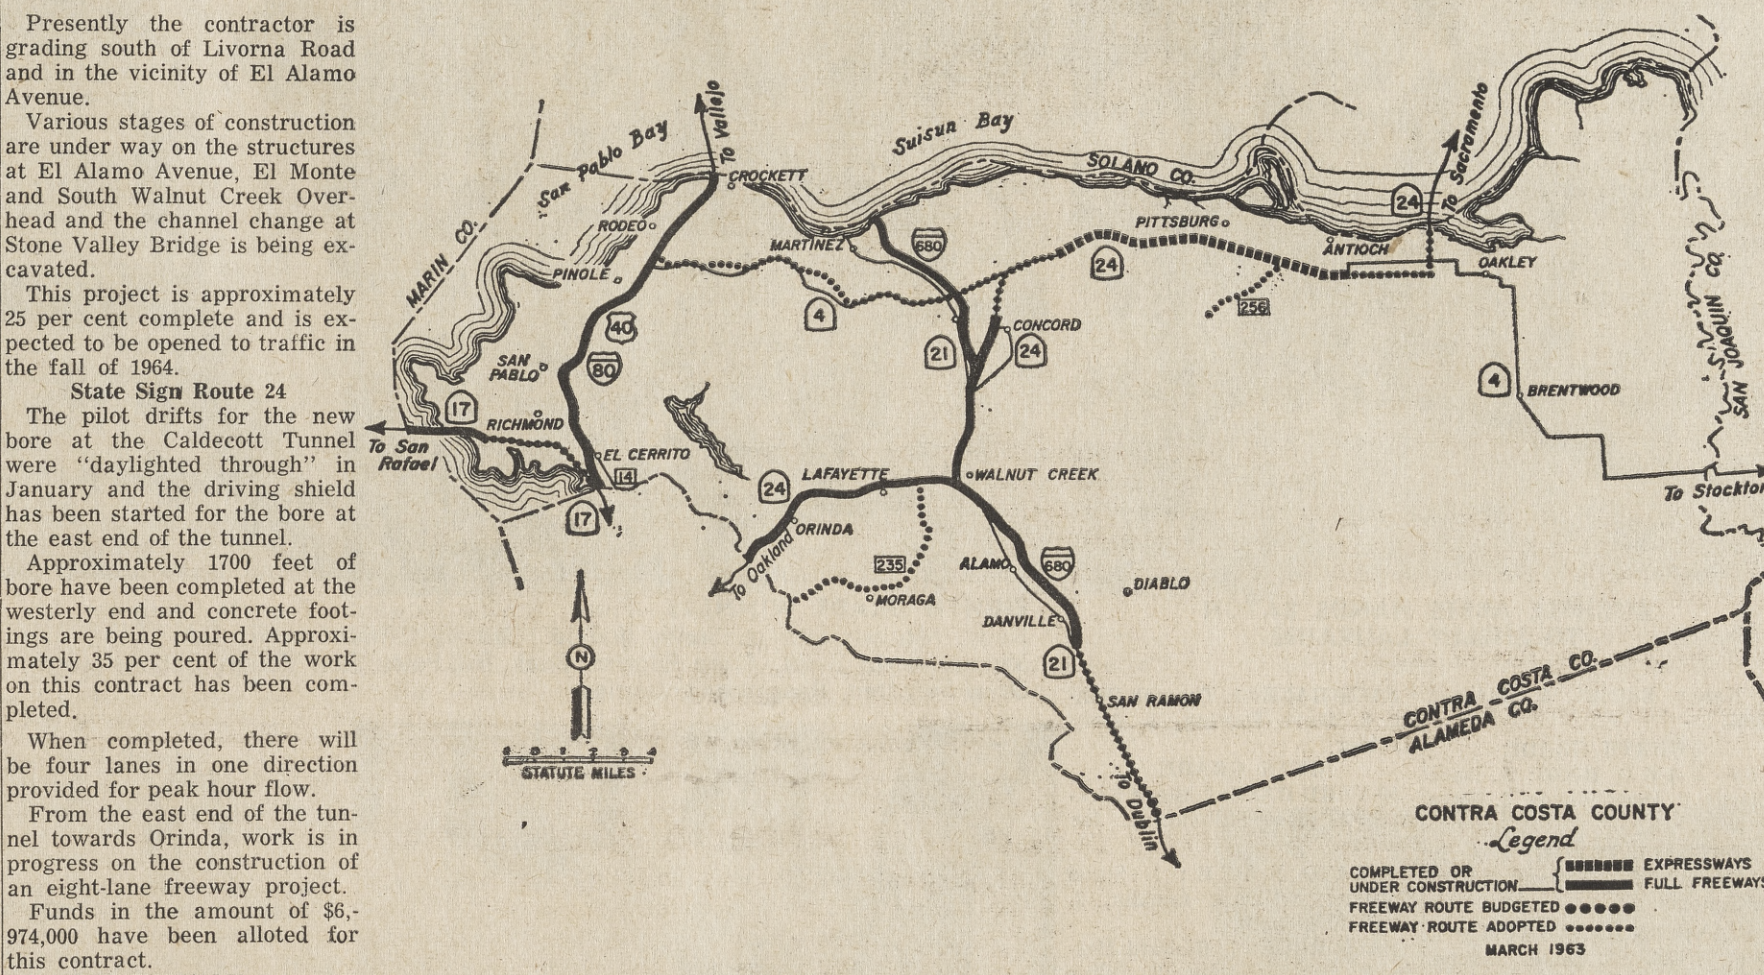

The excess, approximately 400,000 cubic yards, is being used for bridge approaches and embankment on the above-mentioned contract between Willow Pass Road and Monument.

INTRA-COUNTY ROUTES—The route of State Sign Route 24 stretches toward Concord while combined Interstate 680 and Sign Route 21 promise faster access to Martinez and points north.

LINK TO NORTH—Destined to be one of the most important central state freeways, Interstate 680 will someday carry four lanes north and south through Contra Costa, from Martinez on the north to San Ramon on the south.

MAP SHOWS CONTRA COSTA'S STATE HIGHWAY STATUS

Presently the contractor is grading south of Livorno Road and in the vicinity of El Alamo Avenue.

Various stages of construction are under way on the structures at El Alamo Avenue, El Monte and South Walnut Creek Overhead and the channel change at Stone Valley Bridge is being excavated.

This project is approximately 25 per cent complete and is expected to be opened to traffic in the fall of 1964.

State Sign Route 24
The pilot drifts for the new bore at the Caldecott Tunnel were "daylighted through" in January and the driving shield has been started for the bore at the east end of the tunnel.

Approximately 1700 feet of bore have been completed at the westerly end and concrete footings are being poured. Approximately 35 per cent of the work on this contract has been completed.

When completed, there will be four lanes in one direction provided for peak hour flow.

From the east end of the tunnel towards Orinda, work is in progress on the construction of an eight-lane freeway project.

Funds in the amount of $6,974,000 have been allotted for this contract.

APPROXIMATELY 1,800,000 cubic yards of roadway excavation are included in the project which is presently approximately 27 per cent complete.

In addition, the contract includes installation of an extensive drainage system to carry the runoff from the entire watershed at the end of the tunnel a distance of two miles to Orinda.

Bids were opened on May 1 for a project to construct bus loading facilities and sidewalks at Orinda, Alcalanes Road and Pleasant Hill Road interchanges.

Included in this project will be modification of signals and lighting and landscaping. Funds in the amount of $54,800 have been budgeted.

NORTH OF Walnut Creek, Sign Route 24 is being extended as a full freeway between Monument Boulevard and Olivera Street. This work is discussed heretofore in connection with Interstate 680.

Design studies are under way for the conversion of the remainder of Sign Route 24 between Olivera Road and Willow Pass Road on Arnold Industrial Highway (State Sign Route 4) to full freeway.

Other Routes
The location has been adopted for the Shepard Canyon Freeway (Route 235) between the Warren Freeway in Oakland and State Sign Route 24 east of Lafayette.

Although it is not anticipated on the basis of current traffic requirements, that the construction of this route is warranted before the 1970's, freeway agreements have been signed with the City of Oakland and Contra Costa County.

In addition, right of way funds have been provided to permit purchases that will prevent the construction of expensive improvements within the tentative rights-of-way.

Planning studies are under way on Legislative Route 24 between U.S. 40 (Interstate 80) in Richmond and San Pablo Dam.

$534,919 Bond Sales in CCC
"April Savings Bond sales furnished a good lead into the 1963 Freedom Bond drive underway throughout the state and nation," Volunteer Contra Costa County Savings Bonds Chairman E. M. Downer, Jr. has announced.

"During April sales of Series E and H Savings Bond in Northern California amounted to $12,397,280, up more than $2 million over April last year, bringing sales for the first four months of 1963 up to $48,738,404, a $5 million increase over the same period last year," he said.

Contra Costa County sales amounted to $534,919 for April.

S. Main Co-op Has Campaign

Don Sanford of Lafayette is chairman of the spring capital campaign for the Consumer's Co-op center at 1295 South Main Street, Walnut Creek.

Investment drive for the other Valley Area center, at 1510 Geary Road, was held last month. The goal for the South Main facility is $40,000 in a strong base of local ownership in the southern Walnut Creek, Danville, and Alamo areas, according to Sanford.

"Co-op capital comes from the membership, not from the sale of securities on the market," Sanford States.

Members of the campaign committee include, from Walnut Creek, Mrs. Richard Bucci, Zella Healey, Violet Klemm, and Kurt Konke.

From Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. John Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. George Jonal and Sanford, from Alamo, Frank Cuzzillo.

WC Pageant of Arts to Run Thursday to Sunday

By WALT WRIGHT

Whether you know much about art or not, you probably know what you like, as the man says.

And among the many activities and exhibitions planned for the Eighth Annual Walnut Creek Pageant of Arts you're bound to find something you like.

The four-day pageant opens at Civic Center Thursday and will end with a jazz concert by Vince Guaraldi on the afternoon of June 2.

"We've tried to include something for everyone at the pageant," Civic Arts Director Ron Caya told The Sun yesterday.

The ambitious young man in the first months of his new job "threw" the success of the annual affair to the continuing support of interested volunteers and organizations.

OVER 2000 WORKS were received for jurying, Caya said. At midweek, Pageant Co-ordinator Vee Strickland reported the Civic Arts Center overrun with sculptures, both bizarre and conventional. She said an extremely wide variety of paintings, in media ranging from water colors to earth to unidentifiable collage had been received.

"Quantity has surprised us this year," Mrs. Strickland said, "but so has quality." Entries have come from all over the country, she said.

IN ADDITION to art exhibits, mainstay of the festival, the annual event includes programs in the dance, instrumental and vocal concerts, puppet shows and noted artists demonstrating techniques in various media.

And for the footsore connoisseur, a continual open house at the Civic Arts Center.

Participants in the performing arts portion of the festival come from each of the communities in the central county area, Mrs. Strickland said.

"This is a city-sponsored activity," she said, "but it has the Civic Arts Center overrun with sculptures, both bizarre and conventional. She said an extremely wide

Hollow Hazards Are Topics

At least two cases of dog poisoning were reported at the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association board of directors meeting Tuesday night at Owen Owens' home, 26 Irving Lane.

A dalmatian owned by the Alfred C. Coopers of Lombardy Lane died of food poisoning, one of the directors reported. Another of the Coopers' dogs and one owned by the Ray Smiths of Lombardy Lane also were poisoned, it was stated.

The sheriff's office is investigating the poisonings.

THE DIRECTORS urged that all residents of Sleepy Hollow trim back shrubs—particularly pyracantha—which present a menace to visibility of pedestrian or driver.

Teen-age drivers speeding in Sleepy Hollow were continuing to be a problem, it was noted. A new game of "chicken" is being played by teen-age pedestrians, Owens said.

Captain Frank Jelich stated that he was "appalled" by the game.

The teen-agers stand their ground until an oncoming auto is almost on top of them, he said. A maid in the Owens household almost hit two teen-agers playing "chicken" this week, he said.

President Monte Haslett announced that the plans for the association's annual cocktail party are well under way. It will be at the poolside of the Frank Walker residence, 50 Van Ripper Lane, June 8 from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m.

NEW OFFICERS are: Haslett, president; Bob Williams, vice president; Bob Erhardt, treasurer; Steve Stewart, secretary. Phillip Fields will be the association's representative on the Orinda Association civic affairs committee.

Rudy Grah is chairman of the flood control committee. Other members are: Bob Moe, John Williams, Fields and Haslett.

Bob Moe is chairman of the roads committee. Owen Owens is chairman of membership and the publicity committees.

Joan Williams is the representative to the school board meetings. Bob Williams is chairman of the building restrictions committee and representative to the Orinda Association Planning Committee.

The association adopted a motion to encourage membership in the Sleepy Hollow Recreation Association.

Resignations Accepted

Resignations of five teachers were accepted by the board of trustees for the Orinda Union School District, Monday night.

Resigning were: Miss Phyllis Andrews, Mrs. Gail Connolly, Mrs. Joanne Downing, Mrs. Joan Rehnberg and Mrs. Joyce Spence.

W. M. SAWYER of Orinda is one of a series now on display at the Oakland Public Museum as part of their "Chemistry in the Bay Area" show which continues through tomorrow. Display is co-sponsored by the American Chemical Society. Sawyer is a chemist at Shell Development Company's Emeryville Research Center.

Scientific Papers Will Be Given

Three technical papers by Shell Development Company research chemists and engineers will be presented by Orindians before various scientific meetings during June. They are:

"Alkylation of Asphaltenes," by J. C. Illman of El Cerrito and T. J. Deahl of Orinda, will be presented by Illman before the symposium on recent research on bituminous materials at the national meeting of the American Society for Testing and Materials in Atlantic City, Canada.

"Engine Rust," by C. H. Bailey of Berkeley, will be read by S. S. Soren of Orinda at the meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers in Montreal, Canada.

"Electrophoretic Mobility of Polystyrene Latex Particles," by W. M. Sawyer of Orinda and S. J. Rehfeld of Colman, will be presented by Sawyer at the annual Colloid Symposium in Ottawa.

Librarians Attend Meet

Over 20 Contra Costa County Library staff members recently attended an all-day meeting of the Golden Gate District of the California Library Association at the International Inn at the San Francisco Airport.

The morning session was devoted to a panel discussion on public library services to students.

Mrs. Bertha D. Hellum, county librarian and '63 president of the California Library Association, was on the afternoon program, reporting to the membership on current library legislation.

Sleepy Hollow Group Plans a Memorable Day

"A Memorial Day to Remember" is being planned for the members of the Sleepy Hollow Recreation Association, according to the social chairman, Mrs. Stanley Majka.

The day will begin at 9:30 a.m. with the "Sleepy Hollow Softball League" consisting of Mom-Lad, Sis-Dad combination teams coached by Bob Williams and Bruce Little.

A tennis demonstration will be presented by Mike Saputo and his team from Miramonte after the softball game.

Members can then relax around the pool with their picnic lunches. Special "adults only" swim periods will be scheduled every hour on the hour, said Mrs. Majka.

Early Orinda Is Shown at Rotary Meet

Louis Stern, vice president of the Contra Costa Historical Society, was speaker at the meeting of Orinda Rotary Wednesday at Mike Lynn's. Clarence Betz was program chairman.

Stern gave a short history of early Orinda. He also showed slides. Of particular interest was the old California-Nevada railroad, later purchased by Santa Fe, which stopped at the crossroads, then known as Bryant.

Stern also showed slides of Miner Ranch and Cotton Ranch, which are now Sleepy Hollow.

Orinda resident George Brockhurst, 92, farmed both of these ranches before the turn of the century.

ELEMENTARY ARTWORK—Mrs. Florence Rossi, Orinda Union School District art teacher, stands amid samples at Sunday's exhibit. The show, which was from 1 till 5 p.m. attracted many Orindians to the Pine Grove Auditorium. The display was made up of varied art work done by children in Orinda's seven schools during the past year.

'INSIDE STORY' OF MISS CONTRA COSTA

Scenes From Beauty Show Expose All

The glamorous girls who compete in beauty contests are known to the general public for their few fleeting moments on a spot-lit stage.

Playing the role of a journalistic stage-door Johnnie at the Miss Contra Costa Pageant, however, was photographer Martin White, who had popped in and out of boudoir, dressing room and green room to capture an exclusive look at Contra Costa's 10 loveliest ladies.

Always in his lens was the freshly-named Miss of the year, El Cerrito's Danielle de Roo.

Delighting judges and audience alike with a dance to the musical theme of the motion picture Exodus, Danielle stepped and whirled her way to the crown ahead of ten finalists from throughout the county.

DANIELLE, a brown-eyed beauty of 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso de Roo of El Cerrito.

A senior at El Cerrito High School, Miss Contra Costa is in the top third of her class and plans to work for her elementary teaching credential at the University of California in the fall.

In addition to being remarkably attractive, Danielle finds time to:

STUDY MUSIC and ballet (for the last 12 years), dance leading roles with San Francisco's Ballet Celeste and the Richmond Ballet, play clarinet in her high school's orchestra, lead the pom-pom girls at El Cerrito High, and indulge in her two favorite pastimes, swimming and reading.

As Miss Contra Costa, Danielle will compete in Miss California finals June 29 at Santa Cruz in a three-hour-long televised program with 36 other contestants.

Miss Judith Rencher, 19, of 3051 Vessing Road, Pleasant Hill, a Diablo Valley College student, was named first runner-up to the "Miss."

At the same time, the ten finalists themselves named Walnut Creek's Sybil Hall, 1170 Lincoln Avenue, Walnut Creek, as the pageant's Miss Congeniality.

CURLERS TO CROWN—Perhaps Danielle de Roo, a Cinderella in pin curls, day-dreamed of a crown as she prepared herself for the judges' eyes. A formal gown, a bathing suit and one whirling dance later it was hers, complete with a Prince Charming to lend a steadying hand as a flood of congratulations brought tears to her eyes.

Sun Photos by Martin White

QUIET APPLAUSE—Richmond's Cynthia Thomas smiles her appreciation of a competitor's efforts as she waits in the wings.

SPOT-LIT STROLL—A contestant joins the finalists to stare into the darkness of a packed house and await the judges' choice among 10 lovely figures in the bathing suit competition.

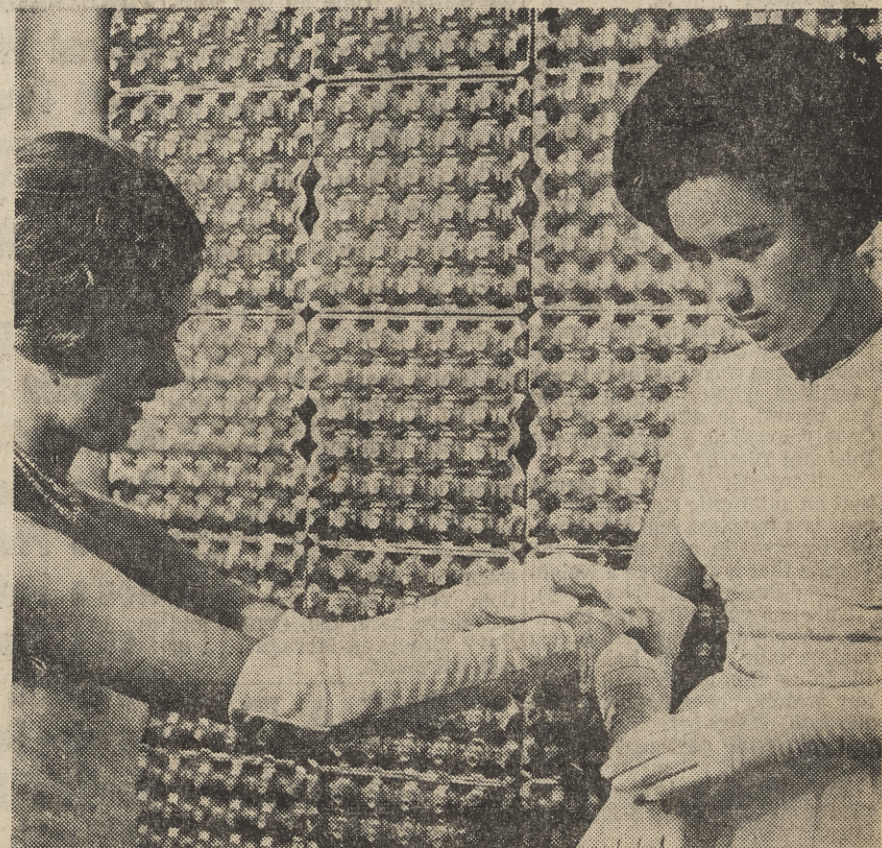

'A VIEW FROM THE REAR'

MISS-TO-BE WAITS—While Pleasant Hill's Susan Girsch checks her football-footwear, Danielle de Roo strikes a ballet position and waits for her cue.

MIRROR, MIRROR—Gigi Varone, Walnut Creek, touches up her lashes with a mirrored smile for our backstage cameraman, Martin White.

A HELPING HAND—Coleen Lewis, Walnut Creek, finds the tiny catch of a bracelet hard to find in the tense moments backstage, but Pleasant Hill's Susan Girsch is ready to help.

Carnival Time! Hop on Merry-go-round, Dance

By KAREN STAFFORD and JACKIE EDENHOLM
A "live" band will provide the music for "Hop On the Merry-Go-Round," the annual carnival dance to be held in the cafeteria at 8 p.m. following the carnival, which will open at 5:30 p.m. This event is the result of the efforts and cooperation of Student Council and the various school clubs. Come all! Try your luck at the many booths and afterwards dance to the music of the "Dynamics" — tomorrow evening — see you there!

Student body elections are over—not surprisingly, everything looks extremely naked—Posters, banners and signs are all down. . . The walls, posts and windows now stare blankly back. . . No more chuckles can be heard along, what last week could be called "Neon Row." . . Now the only remnant of elections is in the form of eight smiling faces, namely, those of the newly elected student body officers for the year 1963-64. . .

Our sincere congratulations to Bill Cooper, president; Max Milton, vice president; Toni Ayres, secretary; Chrissy Voll, social secretary; Beth Shepherd, treasurer; Jay Ainsworth, rally commissioner; John Den Dulk, head cheerleader (Root!); Mike Yedidia, chief justice.

"Cold" was the word from those boys who spent last Friday evening shivering in the stands at Candlestick Park viewing the Giants' game—Bob Williams, Bruce Nickerson, Larry Lahmann, John Lackey, Gary Rose, George Hauer, Kent Miller and Pete Kimball.

A small, impromptu surprise party for Phil Grant's birthday (two days late!) was held at his house—much to his surprise! Friday night at 11:30 p.m. Those couples enjoying the delicious cake were Clint DeWitt and Barbie Brush, Mike Bartlett and Mary Hansen. . . Phil was quite "in the dark" about how it was all arranged. Well, Happy Birthday, late, anyway!! By the way, Bob Burkes also celebrated a birthday Friday. . . We wish the same to you, too, Bob. . . late.

The sun came up, as usual, Saturday morning—the sky was blue and what a beautiful day to lie out in the sun and soak up that rarely seen sunshine. . . But, oh! those college boards—and those poor, poor juniors — namely, Gayle Baker, Frann Obrecht, Nancy Allen, John Den Dulk, Chrissy Voll and Pete Boyle. . . well, there will be other days. . .

Kay Williams and Den Hall spent their evening bowling at the Rheem Bowl. . . also at the bowling alley were Terry Palmquist and Bob Martin, who were matching their prowess at the sport.

While these couples bowled, Patty Anderson and Dale Reed played a rollicking game of tennis on the Miramonte courts. Then along came Sally Skaggs and Sue Hickox, who joined them in doubles. . . such a hard game deserves a treat. . . Sally and Sue went to Berkeley and enjoyed some sherbet!

The Monterey Folk Singing Festival attracted quite a few of our teens last week end. Among the teeming thousands there were Mark Rasmussen, Terry Coleman, Tim Thompson, Dave Partridge, Perry Anderson, Steve Scott and Dale Reed. Syd Bynum, who took part on the entertainment side, was also there. Recently Cecily Floyd, Pete Stoll, Pam Anderson and Bill Stoll spent an evening in our "city by the bay," San Francisco. The evening included dinner at the Sheraton Palace Hotel and "Bye Bye Birdie."

Tuesday, May 14, Girls' League held its fashion show, "Around the Clock in Fashions." Girls from our school modeled clothes they had made, and entertainment was provided. Among those who modeled were Sharon Mekonis, Patti Moore, Bonnie Spentz, Stephany Smith, Chris Del Monica, Janie Wadsworth, Mary Mesler, Gaye Rohrer, Karen Lelievre and Sally Lewton. Some of those who entertained were the string quartet, Claudia Craig, Terry Coleman, Meredith Brown and Chris Vota, Syd Bynum, Carol Mallory and Peggy Moore and Leslie Lee, Pianists were Kathy Knudsen and Becky Horne. The fashion commentator was Barbara Wallace.

Some juniors had a get-together during the weekend to celebrate Jay Ainsworth's election victory. Jay and Trish Bascom, Jeff Ellermeyer and Karen Bentley, Bryan Madden and Chris Walstrom, John Cook and Kay Dunbar, Steve Hampton and Rowena Sherman, and Jeff Patton and Ginger Ronald had quite an evening. To start the evening off, they saw "The Ugly American," then traveled to Bear's Lair where they found Ludwig Fountain more inviting than the Lair itself, and topped off the evening with ice-cream at Fenton's.

Jan Catolica recently found time to visit the campus at Davis. Here she went to classes and just toured the campus to get an idea of what it might be like to attend.

Sue Barkley recently had the privilege to be an attendant in her cousin's wedding. We hear Sue makes a very pretty bridesmaid. Who's next Sue? Did you catch the bouquet?

A few young Orinda couples set out to get some sun 'n sand Sunday morning. Greg Peterson and Pat Canfield, Mike Chance and his date, Doug Rasmussen and Julie Winkworth, Steve Beckett and Chess McIntyre, and Johnny Cooper and his date reached McClure's Beach only to find it fog-bound. After searching for some sunlight for approximately two hours, they settled for a half-sunny clump of weeds and sea-shells which they later named "Insect Haven," or "Poison Oak Hollow." Favorite pastimes here were "bug-stompin'" and "poison oak-itching," and "weed-throwing." An enjoyable time was had by all.

Pharmacy Facts

From CHARLES FERREIRA
The other day we had a friend come in who wanted a refill on a prescription that couldn't be reissued without his doctor's authorization. While he was waiting I was able to cool him down a little with the story of Henry the VIII of England. Seems that, along with his experience in matrimony, Henry considered himself an expert pharmacist. He spent many of his afternoons compounding such horrors as 'His Majesty's Own Plaster' containing, along with some 20 other ingredients, pearls and galeaum wood. In fact, it got so bad that only the brave dared appear before him with even a common cold for fear of having to be a guinea pig for his "prescriptions."

Accurately compounding your prescriptions is our business here at Charles Drugs. Bring them to us for complete satisfaction. You'll find a friendly atmosphere here, too. Center and Park Streets in Moraga . . . or call DR 6-4408.

Let's Not Delay

We don't believe our board of supervisors should be slow to act insofar as the purchase of voting machines is concerned.

Five years ago Alameda County began negotiating with various firms over the purchase of such machines. Year after year has passed and the supervisors of that county still haven't made up their mind.

BUT TO SHOW that Alameda County is still interested, their county clerk, Jack Blue, has been a spectator at the vote machine demonstrations and proposals recently submitted to the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors.

We bring in Alameda County because we believe it proves a good point.

That county lagged in purchasing machines, and as a result its number of election workers has increased and the time grown longer for the tallying of vote results.

Our county should not let the same thing happen. A vote machine system will pay for itself within a short time.

SEVERAL companies have suggested lease arrangements which would not make it necessary for us to allocate a huge amount of money all at one time.

There are some excellent vote machines on the market. We've watched them being demonstrated. Counties in other states are using them with good results.

We know from the interest expressed by the supervisors that they'll take a thorough look into all proposals before deciding on the right machine.

We only hope the Martinez group won't follow in the footsteps of its counterpart in Alameda County.

Hire a Teen

There's no need to tell you that it's almost summertime.

What does that mean? Well, it means lemonade, vacations, swimming pools, sunburns—but most of all it means school is out for almost three months.

It means the teachers are turning junior and sis back to mom and dad.

USUALLY, the younger ones are easily entertained.

But the teen is a different story. They want to get out, earn a few dollars for all those things they want to get.

Jobs are "tight" for teens all year round, but in the summer and in the suburbs jobs are even tighter. Teens are glad to do just about anything.

THEY'LL TAKE care of your yard, wash your car, mind your children.

They don't ask much in the way of pay—and they'll do a good, efficient job.

The main thing is that they are working—earning their own way.

They are keeping busy, staying out of trouble, learning what it's like to work an hour for an hour's wage.

The Alacanes Union High School District has an ambitious program which places qualified students in various jobs in the community.

THE STUDENTS don't get paid, but earn high school credits—and gain worthwhile experience that will help in the selection of a vocation.

The Sun helps in its own way by offering free want ads to the teen-age offspring of its subscribers.

Kids today, probably more than ever, need a good push in the right direction.

We urge merchants—and parents with odd jobs around the house—to give our teens a helping hand this summer.

It won't cost you much and the teens will certainly appreciate the opportunity to do a good job for you.

Hire that boy or girl next door—or check the Sun want ads starting June 7.

You'll be sure to find a bargain for that job that needs to be done.

Back on Track

Bay Area Rapid Transit District trains can now come off the drawing boards and move down the tracks which will link Contra Costa closer to the financial and industrial complexes of the Bay Area, and provide better intra-county transportation as our own economic and residential hubs spread spokes.

This is the effect of Judge Martin Rothenberg's ruling in Superior Court Friday, which found the transit district blameless in each point raised by four suing taxpayers.

Not even an appeal to the State Supreme Court can hinder the district's operations now—unless that higher bench overturns Rothenberg's long-awaited decision.

Transit attorneys advise us that, with Rothenberg's restraining order lifted, the district can and will proceed with issuance of bonds, drawing of engineering plans, acquisition of right-of-way and actual construction.

Even if Attorney David E. Birenbaum delays his promised appeal for the full 60 days allowed him, the district could be out of the courts for good on the issue well before the year is out.

All of which is very good news to those of us, commuters or not, interested in the welfare and growth of the area.

Now then, gentlemen, we've had the election, won the votes, struggled through a lawsuit...

Water Safety

In an area which is said to have as many swimming pools as Minnesota has lakes, it's important that youngsters know how to swim.

With weather like that of the last several days, pools and water-side resorts become the first resort of suburbanites trying to beat the heat.

Water, however, can be as dangerous as it is tempting on a hot day.

WE'D RECOMMEND, therefore, care and caution whether you're in the water or boating, fishing, skiing or sailing on it.

One of the first steps every responsible parent should take is the "waterproofing" of his youngsters.

In addition to several private schools, public learn-to-swim programs are available throughout the central county.

Check with the recreation departments in Orinda, Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek and San Ramon, or with the youth association in Lafayette, for fees, requirements and schedules.

It's fun to take the plunge, but let's make sure we all come up again.

RELAX THIS SUMMER!

Letters to The Editor

FINE FELLOWS?
Editor:

Those self-righteous realtors can proudly pat each other on the back for being such Fine Fellows when they take their realtor's pledge.

It is a noble pledge, but if they are not careful they will find themselves widening the opportunity to enjoy home ownership to minority groups—and that would be completely incompatible with their so-called "Bill of Rights."

They must be careful not to carry their fairness to all too far.

"All" might include a Japanese professional man who recently could not find a home in Lafayette. (The homes he liked just "happened" not to be available.)

The realtors will have to polish up that "Golden Rule." It has become somewhat tarnished when they have had to deal with Negroes.

Do the realtors serve well their community? Of course. Don't we all want to live in a white ghetto?

Do they serve well their country? Of course. Surely we are as good as the white citizens of Birmingham.

Cheers for those lofty ideals. But watch it, fellows. If you take your pledge too seriously, the Property Owner's "Bill of Rights" goes down the drain.

MARCH OF DIMES

As chairman of the Contra Costa County Chapter of the March of Dimes, I extend to you my grateful thanks for your cooperation during the recent March of Dimes fund raising activities in your community.

Certainly it would be ideal for such organizations as the March of Dimes to be able to budget for advertising their programs, goals and appeals for public support. This, however, is not practicable by reason of costs. We believe that every dollar possible must go to the cause for which it is given. It is necessary, therefore, to find other means of educating the American people to the scope of our activities.

You, of the newspaper industry, have provided the means by your generous help, contributing in measurable benefits to this organization your assistance which has again, as in previous years, brought us success in our efforts to bring to mankind not only hope, but promise, to relieve man of distresses.

Your efforts in behalf of the March of Dimes is appreciated beyond expression, by myself and the many dedicated people of your circulation area.

DISCRIMINATION

Editor:

"What do I think?" I think the first half of the April 19 "Under the Sun" might have been written by the Play Council of the Orinda Council for Civic Unity, but the second half sounded more like the Realtors Board.

Your description of the Berkeley ordinance and your interpretation of the Berkeley vote are, I believe, inaccurate and misleading, but I want to take issue with you on another point—"Aren't the real estate men merely reflecting the

We Like It Here... Do you think we'll live Through being thirteen?

By MARIE MONAHAN

THIRTEEN! It's not an age at all. It's somewhere in between.

It's neither short nor tall. Nor sportive Tomboy or regal Queen.

It's start and stop and stall.

It's feeling the way carefully.

Temperamentally... prayerfully.

THIRTEEN! Mock movements on a stage.

A Sarah Bernhart at EVERY age!

It's neither dog-eared comic books

Or Voguish looks or boys in souped-up cars.

It's stars in eyes.

And sometimes tears.

Conformity and Ego. Frustrations and fears.

It's pink plastic curlers and trial lipstick shades.

A limitless capacity for cokes and jokes.

And refrigerator raids.

It's considering a crash diet one minute.

And the next—a cup of chocolate with whipped cream in it.

IT'S MILKSHAKES creamy. Movies creamy. Music dreamy.

By radio's blatant blare all day and night.

It's quiet talk on telephones, quite out of sight.

THIRTEEN'S no age. It's more a plight.

It's hairdos changeable and pretty...

And some that are a fright.

It's any age. On any stage.

The turning of a page.

But neither from a fairy tale or a best seller.

THIRTEEN'S initials framed in hearts...

But not of just one feller.

It's moods that go from UP to DOWN!

It's plotting... pleads for trips to town.

It's eyeing everything with winning smile...

Or frown. Thirteen's a clown. A mime.

It's maddening, gladdening Growing Pains!

A fad and phase. A kind of daze.

community as a whole?"

No, they are not.

They are reflecting the attitudes of a small noisy minority. During my work on the Open Housing Covenant two years ago I spoke to about 100 families. Some of them signed the Covenant, more did not, but only two expressed feelings like "I'll move out when the first nigger moves in," or "Why are you trying to lower my property values?" Most people were comfortable with the status quo (which is what makes a status quo of course) but I firmly believe there will be no great hue and cry when the very few Negroes who can afford to live in Orinda and the fewer who want to live here finally do begin to come.

It is not "too simple to use the real estate interests as 'whipping boys.'" As long as they control the bulk of the housing market and as long as they are discriminatory they might as well stop trying to pass the buck to "the community" and accept their responsibility.

TRANSIT TAX

Editor:

Your editorial in the May 10 Sun which told of rising land prices because of the coming rapid transit system was most interesting. It occurred to me that the system could, perhaps, be made to yield an unexpected bonus to the people of Contra Costa County — in addition to a fast ride.

It seems to me that this publicly financed system, which is creating new value in the land, should receive the benefits of its creation. Perhaps this could be done with a properly levied tax against this new value—helping to pay for BARTD, as well as relieving some of the tax burden from those who will be remote from the system.

It would be ironic if rising and prices due to the system should become an impediment to building homes by people who would like to use the system.

Perhaps the tax I have proposed would help to keep prices within reason.

HOW TO VOTE

Editor:

Rep. John Baldwin never hesitates to vote more than the recommended appropriation for military hardware and yet, on the other hand, wants to balance the budget by cutting out social welfare measures.

I do hope the farm workers and increased unemployment benefits for the unemployed will fare as well as John's hand when these bills come up as the military fares each time.

We'll see.

Staff Corner

The Story of A Visit to Birmingham

(Ed. Note: This week's Staff Corner is written by Dick Hanlin, a graduate of Miramonte High School who is now a Journalism senior at San Francisco State College. Along with three other members of the "Golden Gate" at SFSC, Hanlin traveled to Birmingham, Alabama during the racial demonstrations to report the incident first-hand for the school paper. Hanlin has been working part-time as a member of The Sun's sports staff for the past several months.)

By DICK HANLIN

Friday, May 10, I was sitting in a new writing class at San Francisco State when my professor announced a collection was being taken to send a reporter to Birmingham, Alabama. I volunteered to go and that night, myself and three other, were in a station wagon headed for Birmingham.

We arrived there 24 hours after the bombing and riots which had broken the truce of less than two days. (It took us 56 hours to get there). When we entered Birmingham I remarked that it looked like any other big city. Nobody was smiling but that seemed normal for Monday morning. Men with lunch pails waited for the morning buses while a merchant was washing the windows of his store.

It was hot and humid although the sun had only been up an hour. We then drove toward the main business district and suddenly my first impression of Birmingham was erased. There were armed men everywhere—in cars, on benches, on the sidewalks, on trucks and motorcycles and in the stores. All wore helmets, carried night sticks and an occasional carbine. Water used against Negro demonstrators two days before was still visible in front of two large department stores.

Alabama highway patrolman equipped with helmet, night stick, revolver and comic book waits in Birmingham park for call to duty.

During the week I talked with more than a 100 people (we stopped for six days). Everyone had something to say. In the Negro district I introduced myself to about 15 Negro boys my age and proceeded to write down what they had to say about Birmingham. They talked and I wrote for nearly an hour. When they finished I asked one of the boys if he'd lived in the South all his life.

"We're a baseball team from Philadelphia and we got here yesterday," he replied. Shocked by this "goof" I still managed to thank the boys as I thought about the pitfalls of being a reporter.

The police had sealed off a 28-block area in the Negro district in which is located Ingram Park, the main congregating place for Negro demonstrators. Wednesday night I tried to enter the ghetto (no other term will suffice) and was stopped by the police.

State student Bob Neubert was with me and the two of us were taken to jail and questioned for two hours. After the detectives were satisfied that we weren't "Communist agitators" they used their energy to convince us that the Negro race was immoral and inferior.

One detective said he had nothing against the Negro as an individual only the Negro race. The other seven detectives agreed with him. I told them that this was a stupid statement. The detectives also dwelled on Negro incest and laziness.

At the end of that time we were told that the arrest had been "for our own good," but the police failed to explain how, two hours of interrogation, made us any safer. We were released and told to stay

Under The Sun Hong Kong--A City of Beauty--and People

(Ed. note: This is the fourth in a series of articles written on The Sun Orient Holiday.)

By ELEANOR SILVERMAN

The dignified bow of the Japanese to the hurried Chinese nod; the flowing Japanese kimono to the sleek Chinese cheong-sam dress; the quiet calm of the Japanese shrine and garden to the busy, bustling Hong Kong harbor.

It was quite a jump, but the 33 members of the Sun Orient Holiday made it in fine style aboard the Cathay Pacific plane from Osaka, Japan, to Hong Kong. All close friends by this time, the Sun Tour-ers enjoyed the elegant Oriental beauty of the Cathay Pacific Airline hostesses.

During a brief stop in Taiwan, the group had a first feel of the humid tropical climate and made good use of the colorful paper fans provided by the stewardesses. (You have to fan yourself... too bad!)

On the first tour of the island of Hong Kong, our guide, Kong, set us straight on local conditions:

"Two-decker streetcars, buses and boats have two classes—first class and third class. There are no medium class people," he explained.

Tin Huts and Junks

In the next five days, we were to peek into the lives of the thousands of refugees living in 9x9 rooms for a family in the resettlement centers, or in tin huts on roof tops, or in sampans and junks, where entire families live their lives on water.

The tiny serious-faced children with hands outstretched for "one Honk Kong dolla, one Honk Kong dolla" usually carry an even tinier child tied to their backs. It's no wonder, with 40.8 per cent of the population under 15 years of age.

Noticing the drawn faces of the tour members who had the courage to follow the guide all the way into the hallways of the resettlement areas, Kong explained:

"You must not feel sorry for them. No one is starving. They are feel very happy, because they are success; they are free, they can come and go as they want."

Beauty from a Distance

How is it possible that these same junks and sampans look so lovely when viewed from only 100 feet away? How is it possible that even the dirty, crowded shacks on the hillsides and the tall resettlement block buildings, accommodating 2500 persons per block, look so picturesque against the background of the spectacular peaks and inlets of Hong Kong harbor?

And to complete the picture, the bays are crowded with lovely white ferry boats, hundreds of freighters and a few luxury liners.

It is cheaper for freighters to use the junks to unload cargo right in the bay than to pay to use the docks. The ships are, therefore, scattered all over the busiest harbor on the world.

Try View at Night

And if you think the view is breathtaking by day, try it by night for 20 cents Hong Kong money (about four cents U.S.) on the Star ferry, which carries 100,000 passengers a day. At night, these same junks, sampans and freighters make up a twinkling fairyland against the sparkling lights of the tall buildings surrounding the bay.

Memories of Hong Kong would not be complete without both views—the close-up heartbreaking glance at the teeming human beings struggling for existence, and the distant view of the most beautiful harbor imaginable.

out of the Negro district at night.

During the week I went to Negro freedom rallies, talked with police and Negro leaders, spent a day in juvenile hall classroom talking to students involved in the demonstrations and wandered around Birmingham.

But the day I spent in court was by far the most interesting experience I had. The court room was full of Negroes, 15 years and older who were on trial for demonstrating during the previous week.

The following is my account of what I saw, written for my school newspaper.

"180 days and $100!" Forty-five minutes later the man who pronounced this sentence was dead.

Judge Charles H. Brown, 77, a political appointee of police commissioner "Bull" Connor died before he could be taken from the courtroom.

A man who ground out Southern justice, Brown sentenced scores of Negroes in the past few weeks to half-year jail terms for parading without a permit.

Immediately before his death, Brown had reprimanded a Negro defendant for volunteering "extra information."

The Negro was charged with pointing a loaded weapon at a postman. During the trial a policeman acted as both prosecutor and witness. Brown denied the defense attorney the opportunity to cross-examine the witness and Brown conducted the questioning.

After scolding the Negro, Brown turned toward the front of the courtroom. He slumped forward, exhaling his last breath. "He's sick," screamed a Negro woman.

Twelve officers rushed from their chairs; two unbuttoned Brown's shirt and pants, propped his body and lifted back his head.

A last attempt to breathe left the judge's mouth wide open.

"Everybody pray for him," a Negro woman cried out. In a vain effort to revive the judge, officers threw the windows open. The color left Judge Brown's face by the time firemen burst in to administer oxygen.

Police cleared the Negro-filled courtroom and lined the spectators against the corridor walls.

Integration leader Rev. A. D. King, whose house was bombed last week, led the Negroes in prayer for Brown. "Struck down by the hand of God," Rev. Charles Gardner mused.

Others were not so kind. A white reporter said "When Brown died, the devil sang the song 'Walk Right In.'"

A clerk announced, "Court is adjourned for half an hour." After that stated time, Judge William Conway entered. Within minutes the trial resumed. May 16, Birmingham lost 30 minutes of Southern justice.

Track Stars Go at Pitt

A select group of track stars from the Foothill Athletic League will face further screening tomorrow when the North Coast track championships get underway at Pittsburg starting at 9:30 a.m.

The top three placers in tomorrow's competition will then meet next Saturday in the State Meet to be conducted at the University of California's Edwards Stadium.

One of the prime FAL entries tomorrow will be Bill Staley of Las Lomas. A double winner last week in the North Coast Division I meet at Mt. Eden, Staley will face formidable competition tomorrow in Bruce Wilhelm of Fremont High of Sunnyvale.

WILHELM was the winner of the Division II meet last week with a toss of 62-6 1/2. This is two feet further than any other Northern California prep has reached this year, but still nearly two feet under Wilhelm's best mark of the season. Dave Anderson of San Ramon who raced out of relative obscurity with a late season mark of 1:55.9, will be one of the favorites in the 880.

Pressing Anderson will be Rich Kay of Miramonte. Kay was the top half miler in the FAL until he fell victim to Anderson's murderous finishing kick.

BILL O'TOOLE, Del Valle's all everything, missed last Friday's qualifying meet due to a bout with the flu.

However, he qualified as a hardship case. Running at Richmond Tuesday, O'Toole defeated the fifth place finisher, Cleve Harris of Richmond, in a 9.9 100-yd. dash.

In the 220, he defeated Joe Bonano of Antioch in a 21.8 race to the wind. In fact, since this race was run in conjunction with a Richmond dual meet, he also defeated Travis Williams of Richmond. Williams had finished second in the Division I meet.

TOMORROW O'Toole will go against Jerry Williams of Berkeley whose times of 9.5 and 20.5 are among the best recorded in the country this year.

Other FAL entrants include Ev Williamson of Alacanes in the shotput; Steve Lawyer of Piedmont in the 440; and Bruce Hutchinson and Dean Monroe of Miramonte in the mile.

Greg Ford of the neighboring Clayton Valley is a favorite in the hurdles, winning the highs last week in the record time of 14.0, and the lows in 19 flat.

Berkeley is a heavy favorite to win the team title.

Wolfpack Links Victory Marks End of Mats Reign

San Ramon swept to a 6 1/2-2 1/2 victory over Miramonte, the defending Foothill Athletic League golf champions Monday at Diablo Country Club.

The end of Miramonte's reign may mark the start of a high school golfing power house for years to come. Playing on their home course, Diablo Country Club, the wolfpack beat the Mats in the FAL's last round showdown.

Both teams went into the match with identical 8-1 marks. PETE DOZIER of San Ramon had to go to the 11th hole in a sudden death playoff to beat Miramonte's Rod Robinson, 1-up. Most of the matches were close and won on the last couple of holes.

Dozier and Randy Hammond tied for medalist honors with 36. Coach Larry Church of San Ramon in his first year as the Wolfpack golf coach, proved he could handle the job. San Ramon will be the team to beat in the next few years.

Four of the Mats' first six men are seniors, whereas only one of San Ramon's golfers will leave this June.

Monday is the league tournament in which all the golfers from the FAL teams will compete for the six top medalist spots and aggregate scores of six golfers from each school are added and a team trophy is also awarded on that basis.

COACH JOHN GUZZO of Miramonte said he hopes his team will be able to bounce back and take some of the honors on Monday.

In other FAL action, Las Lomas downed Alacanes 5 1/2 to 3 1/2 to round out the season with a 7-3 record. The Knights beat the Dons Monday at Round Hill Country Club. Coach George DeKlotz of the Walnut Creek group piloted his team to a third place finish in a league loaded with able golfers.

In the first round of the season Las Lomas defeated defending champion Miramonte but two losses to San Ramon and another to Miramonte later in the season nullified the Knights' initial victory.

Del Valle lost to Piedmont 5-4 at Chabot, finishing with season records of 1-8 for both teams. San Ramon 6 1/2, Miramonte 2 1/2. Dozier (SR) def. Robinson, 1 up on the 11th hole; Hammond (SR) def. Sorrick, 1 up, San Ramon best ball; Parce (M) def.

'Rub of The Green'

Mrs. Jack DuFosse of Lafayette was the winner of the first flight in the Round Hill Country Club's Women's Third Annual Handicap Championship, defeating Miss Wanda Wirth, 6-5.

In the second flight, Mrs. Leo Pasquini of Lafayette took the measure of Mrs. Paul Franklin of Orinda, 7-6.

The third flight was won by Mrs. Victor Jonke, who defeated Mrs. Stewart Bennetts, 5-4.

Mrs. Harlan Geldermann won the fourth flight, defeating Mrs. Dick Hoagland, 4-2.

Mrs. A. Bartz won low medalist honors with 84-14-70. Winner of the Lame Duck Tournament was Mrs. Walter Streb, 90-18-72.

Contra Costa County Association of Insurance Agents will hold their third annual golf tournament at Round Hills Country Club on Friday, June 7.

Prizes will be given for low net, low gross and two Calloway prizes.

Reservations will be taken by Chairman Bill Hockins until June 5 at 837-9168, or Jim Smith 682-9467.

Over 200 Boys and Girls In First Stanley Relays

Over 200 intermediate school age boys and girls will participate tomorrow in the First Annual Stanley Relays to be conducted on the Alacanes High School oval, the meet getting under way at 10 a.m.

Eight intermediate schools from the central county area will compete for the Kiwanis' perpetual trophy that will be presented to the school with the greatest total for combined scores of both boys and girls' teams.

Four additional trophies will be presented to winning teams in the seventh and eighth grades, boys and girls.

Considerable interest has been generated by the event, and a sizeable crowd is expected to witness the competition.

Since this marks the first meet of this nature, there isn't much in the way of pre-meet hype to go on. However, on the basis of performances in a recent meet, several youngsters have marked themselves as leading contenders for individual titles.

Bob Vortmeyer of Fairview figures to be one of the favorites in the eighth grade 75-yd. dash.

Jim Stephens of Stanley will be attempting to clear five feet in the seventh grade high jump.

Parkmead's Muther will be a leading contender in the shotput, having a toss of 48 feet to his credit already this season.

Charley Eaton, track coach at Alacanes, has supervised preparation of the track for this event.

The meet is sponsored by the Stanley Parents Club, with proceeds going for youth activities.

Local Sportsmen Hear PG&E View on Dams

By GEORGE R. WHITE

LAST WEEK, within the portals of the Walnut Creek Sportsmen's clubhouse, PG&E was on the carpet, so to speak, in regard to the dams going in at the Pit-McCloud river project up north. As we all know from past experience, the PG&E dam (?) projects are to be watched closely. However, this meeting in particular has brought some facts to light that may be of interest to all.

Many dignitaries from PG&E, the Dept. F&G, Bureau of Sports Fisheries, Walnut Creek Sportsmen and Univ. of Calif. were present. (See picture.)

PRES. JIM MONK started the meeting just after the delicious dinner that was put on by Jim Buck and his wife.

Dr. Paul Needham, pres. of Diablo chapter of Izaak Walton League, introduced the speakers of the evening.

FIRST TO START the ball rolling was Dean Worthington of PG&E with a passel of slides on what PG&E is doing and plans to do in regard to the dams on Pit-McCloud project. Pointed out were existing dams and power houses, then came slides of existing construction and what their purposes are for. It was mentioned that Iron Canyon creek is not considered an important fishing stream.

One point here is that PG&E said they ain't kidding anyone when they install coffer dams and the muddiness of the water. Many slides more and further explanation of what's going on and going into details of Pollution Control Board rules and the like, plus turbidity units and milliliters.

THEN ELTON BAILEY of F&G came up with slides showing scenes from Pit I powerhouse down to present sites of Pit 6 and 7 dams and powerhouses. Mention was made of Lake Britton and Pit 3 forebay. After Lake Britton came into being, fishing was good for three years and then the missing link occurred, fishing was no good. At this point F&G hasn't hit the right combo or has gotten the right answer for Lake Britton. Another question to be figured out by F&G is what runs up from Lake Shasta and will be blocked by Pit 7?

Then came Dan Slater of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Ser. giving history and some statistics of Pit 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and the now constructing 6 and 7, along with what is required in water flow under federal license. Some of his slides drew unhappy comments from those present. However, he said there are many good provisions in the contract.

Next came the Q's and A's and this session was real hot, everybody got in the act. To start the ball bouncing was Dr. Needham mentioning that we must work together for both power needs and wildlife; Jim Buck said that he has fished the Pit for 30 years, we can't stop progress, we are at crossroads and from Pit 5 down at the present time it's good fishing, although today you can't catch native trout in the N. Fork of the Feather R.

SOME MORE COMMENTS and questions went like this: Below Pit 5 mud in river—so many dams and still no trout. If a hatchery is needed, who pays, who builds it? "We only want what is coming to us," says Buck, "we should have something for the future." PG&E did say that if a hatchery is required it's in the license.

ASC Pres. Julius von Nostitz said there is much talk of multi-use water, he proposes that a section of the Middle Fork of the Feather should be set aside as a wildlife area. Dick Hinkson—area ABOVE dams is good for trout fishing, but? If we can only expect 3 yrs. of good fishing, and what with the projected population and all is this going to be a dammed up state?

A QUESTION AROSE as to what points do PG&E and F&G disagree? The answer by PG&E was that on most all points they agree except when it comes to flow of water from dam downstream. Buck says that below Pit 5 we lose over a million fish! The meeting came to an end with some courteous thanks, and from what this editor can see is that a lot of fishermen are not quite happy and the smog is still present.

Ron Patten, Home Grown Golf Pro

By HEC HANCOCK

As far as I'm concerned, anyone that can take the bugs out of a golf swing, or teach you how to hit a golf ball straight, has a rare and wonderful talent. But a guy that can not only teach his wife how to play golf, but get her game down to a 12 handicap, for my money, is a complete and fantastic genius. With due apologies to the distaff side, I've found that in most instances, undertaking to teach your wife any type of skill, particularly one as complex as golf, has much future as cliff jumping—up or down.

Second in a Series

HOWEVER, since Ron Patten, golf pro at the Diablo Country Club, modestly admits to such an accomplishment, there just isn't any other category we can place him in, but that of genius . . . A fantastic genius!!

One thing is certain, he had plenty of background for the job.

For one thing, Patten is one of the oldest names in golf in Contra Costa county. Ron's father, Pat Patten, is the dean of Contra Costa pro's, and has been at the Orinda Country Club for over 20 years. The younger Patten grew up with golf as a companion.

Another thing going for Patten is the fact that he has been a teaching golf pro for nearly half of his 34 years, having turned pro at the tender age of 18. Once he turned pro, he has followed golf as a career ever since.

WHILE HE learned the game under the watchful eye of the senior Patten, Ron has made it as a pro strictly on his own. He got his first job at Land Park in Sacramento to get things started.

After a year in Sacramento, he packed his bag and headed out into the blue Pacific, there to become the assistant pro at Kalakua course in Honolulu.

After two years in the islands, his golf career was interrupted for a tour of duty in Uncle's armed services. Upon his discharge, he returned stateside, and took a job at the Woodbridge Country Club at Lodi.

In 1953, Hawaii again called, and for six years he was the pro at Kalakua, this time as head man.

THE JOB at Diablo opened up in 1959, and Patten came home. His father had been the pro at Diablo from 1932 until 1941.

Ron grew up in the area, and graduated from Alacanes High School.

Mrs. Farmer Is Diablo Winner

Mrs. W. F. Farmer defeated Mrs. John Dustin 1-up, to win the Championship Flight of the Diablo Women's Spring Handicap Golf Tournament recently.

The second flight was won by Mrs. Jack Hughes, as she downed Mrs. Kenneth Brown in the finals.

Mrs. A. W. Anderson edged Mrs. Leslie Thompson to win the third flight.

Mrs. W. B. Bates defeated Mrs. Henry Scheinbeck to take honors in the fourth flight.

In consolation play, Mrs. Leroy Leal won the Diablo flight. Second consolation flight was won by Mrs. Boone Robinson.

Third consolation flight was won by Mrs. Ray O'Flynn.

WATCH THIS ONE DROP, DAD—Stacy Patten shows dad, Ron Patten, golf pro at Diablo Country Club, the latest in putting techniques with the younger set.

But while Patten is at home on the Diablo fairways, others of us aren't.

Questioned as to if there were any problems that were unique to the rolling Diablo course, Patten replied "The greens here at Diablo tend to be a little on the smaller side. Consequently, I think the members have tended to concentrate more on their short game."

Since this is the most effective scoring area, Patten felt that it would behoove anyone to pay particular attention to the short game.

"HERE AT DIABLO, we attempt to teach individually. Thus, it's difficult to generalize.

"I advocate a short, controlled swing, and a relaxed attitude.

"By this I mean you shouldn't compress for distance as you will with your woods and longer irons. If you feel you will have to press with an eight iron to make the green, then go to a seven iron instead. The important thing is to get into scoring area."

THE GENIAL Diablo pro went on to say, "However, when I say short controlled swing, this means different things to different people. Some players can take the club all the way back and have complete control. Others will be able to only use an abbreviated backswing. The important thing is that you control the swing."

According to Patten, "This is what I'm referring to when I say we try to teach individuals. It's almost impossible to generalize about golf, and have it apply to everyone."

Such modesty form a complete and fantastic genius.

Exotic Fuchsias Are Easy to Grow In Warm Garden

Look where you may, there's nothing finer than fuchsias for your summer garden. Here in northern California, especially, they are among the two or three most important plants for bloom during the warm months. Fuchsias enjoy their greatest popularity in and about the San Francisco Bay Area and up and down the coast from that point. More and more, however, inland gardeners have come to grow them successfully by simulating to some extent the coastal conditions which fuchsias love. THEY DO well inland when given shade and daily watering, preferably from a mist-type sprinkler. A mulch of peat moss or steer manure is also beneficial.

GIFT MEMO—Bright idea for any occasion—a tub full of cascading petunias—Pink Cascade—in this case. Ideal for any spot in the garden or patio that needs color. Choose from many selections all blooming away in pots including mums, rhododendrons, azaleas, loads more.

White Fairy, which is recommended especially for pot culture. There are several in which purple and red are combined and as usual the result is beautiful. PURPLE BEAUTY, Come t, Masquerade and Omeomy all combine shades of purple with red or pink. There are others, many others, which will be found for the first time in nurseries this year. Fuchsias have the rare quality of looking for all the world like something from a tropical paradise and being at the same time of the easiest culture. As we note above, they like their share of shade and water, plus which they thrive on regular feeding, usually with liquid fish and occasionally with a foliar type food. Pruning and pinching will make the shrubs compact whether grown in the ground or in a hanging container. This is the surest way to more bloom. So don't be shy about pinching out new growth. You'll get much more of it later on. The Rome, Italy, sanitation department each month removes coins from the Trevi Fountain in that city and turns the money over to Italian charity.

What Gives With Nylon Zippers?

QUESTION: As a home sewer, should I choose the new nylon zipper in preference to the metal one I'm accustomed to using? ANSWER: Home sewers are liking the new nylon coil zippers. They are applied to garments in the same way as other zippers are. Since they are nylon, watch your iron temperature. Here are care instructions from the manufacturer: In common with all zippers, those made of nylon coil should be closed before washing, dry cleaning, ironing or pressing. Zippers made of nylon should be treated as any other synthetic product. A dry or steam iron with controls set at synthetic or steam is recommended. If fabric to be pressed requires a temperature setting higher than synthetic or steam when zipper cannot be pressed in a closed position, place a press cloth or similar covering over the zipper area. Many irons have the following settings, any of which are suitable for pressing nylon coil fasteners: "wash and wear," "rayon," "synthetic," "steam," "silk."

NYLON COIL zippers are not harmed by any of the following: laundering by machine or by hand; by any soaps or detergents; by spin, tumble or hot air dryers; by coin operated dry cleaning machines. If a dry cleaning or washing process makes a nylon coil zipper hard to operate, lubricate the surface with beeswax or its equivalent.

Mulching Time Is Here Again

Mulching is a June job in the garden. It protects shrubs against the long summer drought, makes it possible to leave them for longer periods between watering. Use steer manure or peat moss in a good three-inch layer around camellias, fuchsias, rhododendrons, azaleas, hydrangeas, hibiscus and other moisture loving shrubs. According to the California Association of Nurserymen many gardeners fail to mulch deep enough. Remember, the deeper the mulch layer,

Serving you from Humboldt Bay Power Plant

PG and E now is producing electricity from the atom at its second atomic power plant, near Eureka! Here, at California's first full-scale atomic power plant, the atom will produce electricity as cheaply as other fuels could! It's a big step forward in the peaceful use of atomic energy. Atomic electricity is a safe and dependable source of power. Proposed: an even larger atomic plant at Bodega Bay—another step in the continuing program to harness the atom for beneficial purposes.

Uranium fuel heats water to produce steam in the atomic reactor. The steam turns a turbine generator to make electricity for you.

Let Color Cascade

Hanging a plant on high and letting its colors cascade down creates extra special effects in the garden.

Nurserymen make liberal use of this technique to beautify their nurseries. There's no reason you can't do the same at home. Try hanging a few baskets of bloom from eaves, arbors or even from the limbs of trees.

A check with the California Association of Nurserymen reveals several plants which member nurserymen favor for use in hanging baskets.

MOST ARE available already started, while all can be started from young plants this month. A selection of containers is also available with several types of redwood baskets and various terra cotta pots to choose from.

One of the commonest and easiest plants to grow in hanging baskets is the trailing ivy geranium—a good one for the beginner to experiment with. Its foliage is glossy and green throughout the year and for many months it produces a succession of blooms. These are mostly pink, but other colors are also to be found.

They require little attention, other than watering and an occasional meal of well-balanced fertilizer. This is to re-supply the nutrients which are washed from the soil by constant watering. All plants in hanging baskets need more food than they normally would because of this washing-out process.

ANOTHER GOOD perennial which beginning gardeners should find easy to grow in hanging baskets is the gray-leaved parrot's beak lotus.

This is an unusual specimen, with red flowers not unlike sweet peas contrasting with the gray, finely cut foliage in summer. In the open ground, it does well only in warm-winter sections of California, but when grown in a container where winter protection can be afforded, this lovely lotus can be a feature anywhere.

Of the easiest culture, it needs more attention than is indicated for ivy geranium above.

IF ANYONE doubts the beauty of hanging-type tuberous begonias, his doubts would be dispelled after viewing pictures of California's leading begonia gardens. In recent years California growers have hybridized new size and beauty into the hanging begonias, which once were much smaller than they are today.

Most CAN nurserymen have samples of these on display, but they don't last long after customers see them in bloom.

You can start your own begonia basket by putting two or three trailing types (which nurserymen offer in plant bands or small pots) into a hanging container. Use a soil rich with leaf mold and feed them frequently with liquid fish. Give them high shade or part shade.

TRAILING fuchsias are probably the favorite plants for hanging baskets in northern California, and many southern Californians grow them with success.

They are at their best where coastal conditions exist, but they may be grown inland when given shade and plenty of moisture on their leaves and their roots. Feeding once every two or three weeks with fish emulsion will also benefit fuchsias. When starting with young plants, put two or three into a container for best effects and pinch the terminal shoots as they grow to make the plants fill and carry more bloom.

For gardeners who seek unusual effects, hanging baskets offer a wonderful opportunity to experiment. The CAN suggests trying the following:

SHRIMP PLANT has a naturally drooping habit and while most gardeners think of it as a border plant, adventurous types found it well suited to basket culture. Prune to discourage vertical growth and to emphasize lateral tendencies. You'll get much pleasure from the creamy-bronze flower bracts in summer.

Italian bellflower, the trailing campanula with star-like flowers, is slightly terrific when its late summer bloom arrives. It grows in shade or part shade, taking much the same care that might give basket-grown begonias.

Refresher Course for Nurserymen

Contra Costa members of the California Association of Nurserymen will join those from all over the state to trek back to college June 5-6. They will attend the 15th annual refresher course at Cal Poly College in San Luis Obispo.

One of the subjects on the agenda will be a panel discussion on smog and its effect on plants. At the opposite end of the scale, Freezes that affect nursery stock will be analyzed by a meteorologist.

A Trade Fair will be held to introduce new products and plant innovations to nurserymen. The two-day program will be put on by the nurserymen themselves in cooperation with Cal Poly College.

The Newest Sensation In Plant Nutrition and Deep Soil Penetration

TERR-O-VITE

The All-Purpose Fertilizer that Makes Water Wetter

"Doc" Cha-Kem-Co says:

Why is

TERR-O-VITE

TODAY'S BIG VALUE

It's the answer to modern gardening the complete fertilizer PLUS

TERR-O-VITE supplies the important nutrients all plants must have to thrive.

TERR-O-VITE contains elements that enter into the manufacture of vital root-forming enzymes and also reduces transplanting shock.

TERR-O-VITE's heavy concentration of Chelating Agents plus Chelated Iron, Zinc and Manganese help to prevent and cure Chlorosis (yellow foliage) induced by high concentrations of alkali in soil or water.

TERR-O-VITE's chemical reactions in the soil break down Adobe, Caliche, Hardpan and Alkali soils so they can be broken with a trowel instead of a tractor.

TERR-O-VITE's Wetter-Water principle saves water and fertilizer by reducing runoff.

You don't need to Pick and Sweat

Bore Holes

or

to get fertilizer down deep in soil where plants really feed

Just Spray on TERR-O-VITE

the key that unlocks the secrets of full plant nutrition

WARNING!

There are imitation products on the market that are supposed to be "as good as TERR-O-VITE but cheaper." Beware of such imitations. They may be fertilizers made with inferior grades of urea, high in biuret content. This chemical is known to be toxic to many plants when used consistently. Protect your plants by refusing such imitations. Insist on TERR-O-VITE.

Plans for Large Bldg. Drawn Up

Working drawings and specifications for part one, phase one, of a huge academic center at Diablo Valley College have been approved by the governing board of the Contra Costa Junior College District.

The project, consisting of 11 classrooms, two lecture halls, and basic mechanical installations, will cost an estimated $448,455. Dustan Granshaw, district business assistant, said that bids may be opened the latter part of June.

The first phase of the complex was originally to have consisted of 22 classrooms and four lecture halls, but shrinking finances forced this particular segment of the project to be halved.

Part two of the present project will cost $380,000, phase two $500,000, phase three $650,000, and phase four $280,000.

The finished center will provide 50 classrooms, 11 lecture halls, a 300-seat lecture auditorium, faculty offices for 80 instructors, a student conference room, language laboratories, a radio-television-audio-visual center, and miscellaneous offices.

'Old' Proposals Offered for Nine Highway Projects

Nine state highway project proposals have been approved by the board of supervisors and will be presented to the state Chamber of Commerce Wednesday.

The projects, with one exception, are not new to county motorists, nor are the three more recommended for planning and right-of-way acquisition and an additional three urged for long-term planning.

And only one project of interest to central county commuters has been recommended for construction in 1964-65 by the advisory committee.

This is the acquisition of rights of way and initiation of construction of Highway 21 from one mile south of Danville to one mile north of the Alameda-Contra Costa county line.

MUCH-DISCUSSED Shepherd Canyon Freeway from Oakland through Moraga to Pleasant Hill Road in Lafayette comes up again in the recommendations as it did last year, for completion of surveys and design "to permit early acquisition and protection of rights of way."

Route studies were also recommended for State Route 256, a major highway proposed between Ygnacio Valley Road in Walnut Creek and Kierker Pass Road near Pittsburg.

In the long-term planning recommendations are two highways which would make inter-county travel easier, and the committee recommends completion of route studies for them.

THESE ARE State Route 235—from the Pleasant Hill interchange in Lafayette into Concord via Pacheco—and State Route 255—a connection between the Shepherd Canyon Freeway in Lafayette and Highway 21 in Alamo.

Yet farther off in planning are proposals for major improvements of San Pablo Dam Road and a connection between Highway 24 west of Orinda and Shepherd Canyon Freeway as it passes through the tiny town of Canyon.

The plans indicate, as they have in the past, that the intersection of Highway 24, Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Pleasant Hill Road and Shepherd Canyon Freeway—all at the south end of Lafayette—plus a nearby rapid transit station will create four of the busiest corners in the county.

According to Division of Highways spokesman Jack Granger, the proposals will be brought to the state by the state Chamber of Commerce at meetings in San Francisco late this summer.

The division in turn will submit its recommendations, and budget and priority decisions should be made in October or November, he said.

Students Take Real Estate Courses Here

A short course in real estate by the California Real Estate Association as a public service. "Real Estate and Its Effect on Your Life" is being given to students at the Del Valle, Pleasant Hill, Clayton Valley and Las Lomas high schools, it was announced by Ray Henry, president of the Contra Costa Board of Realtors.

"The high school teachers will use a resource unit designed to give the students an introduction to real estate which will be helpful to them upon their graduation," Henry said.

"The resource unit is provided by the California Real Estate Association as a public service." HENRY SAID that he had received word from L. H. "Spike" Wilson of Fresno, president of the 39,000-member CREA that more than 300 high schools and many junior colleges throughout the state are offering these classes using the association's resource unit.

He said this is the third year that this real estate education program in high schools has been in effect and, according to a survey among teachers and students in classes last year it was one of the most interesting and practical business courses available to high school students.

"We are pleased with the excellent classes offered by Galen Otto, Del Valle; Grace Munfort, Pleasant Hill; Wanda Nelson, Clayton Valley, and John Chambers, Las Lomas," Henry said.

"Every student will eventually become a user, a buyer, or a seller of real estate," the realtor leader said.

"DURING THE average person's lifetime approximately 20 per cent of his income will be spent on real estate, either for rental or purchase. This does not include an even larger investment in real estate for income purposes."

He said that although real estate underlies nearly all phases of human endeavor and growth, training as to its identity and wise use has been neglected in high school educational programs.

Brown Urges Bay Crossing Action Group

Governor Edmund G. Brown has proposed the formation of an action committee of Bay Area county representatives to get agreement on locating additional bay crossings.

He made the proposal in a letter to Bay Area state senators. The governor cited studies showing that by 1965 the Bay Bridge will reach its traffic capacity and by 1967, Golden Gate Bridge will have reached its capacity.

But, he said, some city councils and boards of supervisors have taken differing positions regarding locations and their differences need to be resolved.

"I propose to you the creation of an action committee to resolve community differences and pull together the entire Bay Area community behind the construction of these essential bridges."

Commendation For Program

Consumer Counsel Helen Nelson reports commendation of the Mt. Diablo District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs for their consumer education program.

Mrs. Nelson, Governor Brown's advisor on consumer legislation, said government officials participating in the program rated it outstanding.

County Honors 20 For Long Service

Five county employees from the central area were honored Tuesday by the board of supervisors for their years of service.

Frank M. Buralho, 1339 San Reliez Court, Lafayette, was one of two persons completing 20 years with the county. He's a truck driver for the public works department.

Others receiving awards were Lois Gleason, 800 Hawthorne Drive, Walnut Creek, 15 years, hospital office manager; Donald V. Morrison, 3117 Teigland Road, Lafayette, assistant county probation officer, 15 years; Harold C. Valentine, 985 Danville Highway, Alamo, assistant field maintenance foreman, 10 years, and David G. Allen, 937 Stow Lane, Lafayette, storeroom clerk for the health department, 10 years.

Twenty employees, with 265 years of county service, were honored.

Warm Weather 'Fly Weather'

The advent of warm weather could also be the advent of a fly nuisance if citizens do not take the necessary precautions to prevent fly breeding, according to officials of the Contra Costa Mosquito Abatement District.

Most any piled decomposable moist organic material will produce flies unless intelligent steps are taken to prevent this nuisance. Dry material does not produce flies.

Piled horse manure is a favorite breeding source for flies; and horse owners who have let the manure accumulate on account of continued rain and wet conditions are urged to take immediate steps to prevent fly breeding, such as by spreading the manure thinly to dry, official said.

Piled lawn clippings around homes or over back fences should also be spread thinly to dry or otherwise properly disposed of, such as by hauling to an authorized refuse dump.

Piled weeds and other such material may also produce flies.

And the District again reminds citizens to securely wrap all garbage in three or more thicknesses of newspaper before placing in the outside can, for it has been clearly demonstrated that household garbage cans are a serious source of flies around homes.

Overcharge by PG&E Claimed

Basing their findings on income taxes actually paid between 1956-1960, the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association has claimed that Pacific Gas and Electric Company has overcharged customers to the tune of $76,394,000 during the period.

The association said PG&E had averaged a 6.5 per cent profit during the period, half a per cent above that allowed under statutory regulation.

Kennel Club Names Judges For June Show

George Higgs, Rosemead, has been selected by Contra Costa County Kennel Club to head its annual All-Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trial.

The show, the group's 19th, will be held at Diablo Valley College in Pleasant Hill on June 9.

Other judges named for the show and approved by the American Kennel Club include:

Howard A. Dulling, West Covina; Mrs. Julie Marcham, San Francisco; Vincent G. Perry, Canoga Park; Derek C. Rayne, Carmel, and A. J. Schoendorf, Sacramento.

Obeyance trial judge judges will be Mrs. Ruth Davis, San Francisco, and Margaret Downing, San Mateo.

Judging will be in six groups, sporting, hound, working, toy, terrier and non-sporting. Obedience competition will be offered in novice, open and utility.

The English Springer Spaniel Club of Central California and the Northern California Brittany Club are holding their annual specialty shows in conjunction with the Contra Costa County dog show.

The Bulldog Club of Northern California also will be sponsoring the English Bulldog entry.

Diablo Country Club Is Setting for Medics' Gay 'Roman Holiday'

Nursing scholarships will be awarded to six Contra Costa County high school seniors from the proceeds of the 12th annual flower ball of the Contra Costa Woman's Auxiliary to the Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association held recently.

The ball was a tremendous financial success as well as an evening of great fun and enjoyment for all who attended. Winners of the scholarships will be announced as soon as the committee makes its final decision. There are 16 applicants.

Diablo Country Club was the setting of a very beautiful and glorious Roman Holiday. Decorations utilizing pillars, fountains and clusters of huge purple, burgundy and gold grapes carried out the theme.

Well over 300 guests were received by the chairman, Mrs. Norman L. Portello of Lafayette, who was attired in a beautiful white chiffon gown, and by the president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Louis Arnaud of Walnut Creek, who was gowned in cream brocade trimmed with pearls.

Mrs. John Cheredes, president-elect, wore an elegant pale yellow organza gown. Mrs. Irving Fine, decorations chairman, wore a full length pink gown.

Reservations were checked by Mrs. Neil Wilson in a beautiful orange print, also full length. Mrs. Harris Lavine in white with black lace.

As the guests arrived, Mrs. Paul Winn in an elegant beige chiffon and her "flower girls" pinned carnations on the gentlemen.

Mrs. Charles Hart, in pleated white chiffon, and Mrs. Kenneth Ender, in white trimmed with aqua, and the hostesses helped to seat the guests.

Dancing was to the music of Gordon Heche.

Dr. Eugene Whitney of Pleasant Hill, master of ceremonies of the dance contest which climaxed the evening, donned a derby for the waltz, a sombrero for the samba and a "pork-pie" hat for the twist. Prizes were awarded to the winners.

Among those entertaining before the ball were Dr. and Mrs. Gordon VanNuys of Diablo and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Hart of Walnut Creek.

Their many guests included Messrs. and Mmes. Arthur

Mohr, Jr., Thomas Webb Johnson, Eric Anderson and Gordon MacCaulley of Walnut Creek.

Dr. and Mrs. Louis Arnaud had at their table Mr. and Mrs. Leon Rahn (Judge Betsy Fitzgerald Rahn) and Messrs. and Mmes. Rheule Reitze of Walnut Creek, William Scheuber, C. A. Catassi and Douglas Hackett.

Dr. and Mrs. William Flood of Pleasant Hill, with their guests Mr. and Mrs. William Dochterman of Sacramento, were seated with Dr. and Mrs. John Cheredes.

Other local guests included Drs. and Mmes. Robert Pinger, Ralph Kirk, Sol Draznin, Richard Irvine, J. M. Faulkner and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perez of Concord.

Drs. and Mmes. John Teverbaugh, John Hutch and Peter Kunkel of Pleasant Hill; Drs. and Mmes. Irving Fine, George Weston, Raymond Arnold, Donald Sterns and Kermit Stenngaard of Lafayette.

Drs. and Mmes. Frederick Ackerman, Roland Davies, Lee Lorenzen, Mahlon Connett, William Crepps, Alan Ory, Albert Peretti, J. W. Fitzsimmons, Siedell Soss, Lyle Powell, Leland Noll, Samuel Hauer, E. R. Chisholm and Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Burkhardt with several guests of Walnut Creek.

From Alamo were Drs. and Mmes. Herbert Packard, Paul Winn, Frank Thomas and Irving Fien with their guests Dr. and Mrs. James Lansche, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Grubin.

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Flinders and Dr. and Mrs. Jules Kanzel of Danville were among the guests.

Messrs. and Mmes. Owen Owens, Warren Martin, David

Coleman, James Casey and Dr. and Mrs. David Liu were at the table of Dr. and Mrs. W. James Eldred.

Dr. and Mrs. Maxwell Bernstein entertained several couples from Vallejo. Dr. and Mrs. Charles Duffy of Brentwood were among those enjoying the dancing.

Suburban Jrs. Install

New officers for the coming year were installed recently by the Lafayette Suburban Junior Woman's Club.

Mrs. Harry Hemstalk, Mt. Diablo District president for the Juniors, acted as installing officer.

Those taking office included Mrs. H. P. Schippman, president; Mrs. John Fitzsimmons, first vice-president; Mrs. John Lambert, second vice-president; Mrs. Bernat Rosner, recording secretary.

Mrs. Lee Butler, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bryce

Blakely, treasurer; Mrs. Don Stone, auditor, and Mrs. H. J. Pfiffner, parliamentarian.

Lombardy's Coup d'Etat

French dictionaries notwithstanding, Lombardy Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay has added enough explanatory notes to their clever invitations for May 28 to enlighten even those whose linguistics are confined to English.

Lombardy's "coup d'etat" will be the Treasures from Versailles, the 18th century objets d'art which are having one of only four United States showings at the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco.

"Le tarif" will be "cinq" (five) dollars, and this will include "l'autobus, conference (lecture) exclusive, tour and le déjeuner au parc."

"Le déjeuner" means a French picnic lunch in Golden Gate Park consisting of wine, cheese, breadsticks, chicken, pastry and coffee, and boxed lunches will be set out with red and white checked plates and napkins.

The East Bay contingent will rendezvous at 9:15 a.m. at the Orinda Country Club where buses will depart at 9:30 a.m. — a la dot! — and "retour a 3 p.m."

The art treasures will be on display in the newly-completed 17th Century French Chamber at the Palace of the Legion of Honor. The room itself, a fine example of Louis XIV period of architecture and decor, will be viewed for the first time by many attending this day.

The committee powering the day-long jaunt across the bridge includes Mmes. Thomas Connolly, branch chairman; James Love, chairman of the event; Allen Goldsmith, food; Calvin Hagstrom, transportation, and Edward Law, 254-3178, tickets and reservations.

Afternoon Huge Success

Over 200 women members and their friends attended "The San Ramonettes" annual luncheon-card party recently at the Alamo Women's club house.

The committee members announce that the function netted over $500. It is the one and only money-making event for the year sponsored by The San Ramonettes.

General chairman was Alva Latham. President of this active organization is Mae Wollgren.

Doris Johnson of Danville won the special event of the day. It was a lovely planted indoor garden—made and donated by Lucile Rock of San Ramon.

Mrs. Johnson was among the lucky door prize winners also.

Others were: Fay Glover, W. H. Older, Elizabeth Schneider, Bess Hughes, Charlotte Van Gorden, Iona Lewis, Alma Lichnecker, Jeanne Brown, Carol Curria, Jean Farwell, Carola Cordell, Mary Tholke, Pat Muns, C. McMullin, Bernice Sherrill, Betty Rogers, Joan Crocker and Helen Renshaw, last year's general chairman.

Next membership meeting of The San Ramonettes will be June 11 at noon at the home of Josephine Jones, Rancho Romero, Alamo.

Africa Lures a Lady Into Political Wilds

Marcia Montin, a 23-year old Walnut Creek scholar, has been awarded a $3500 Fellowship by the American Association of University Women.

Miss Montin will use the money to complete her doctoral studies on the history and study of the political role of the press in Nigeria, Africa.

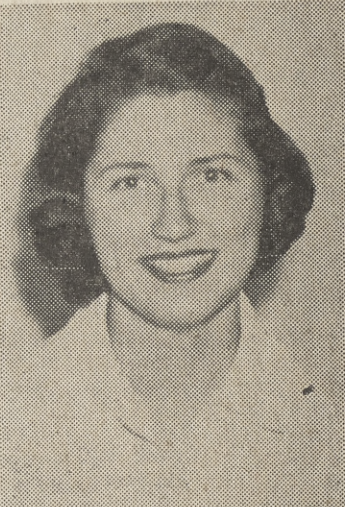

She will leave the London School of Economics and Political Science, where she is currently studying on a Fulbright grant, and travel to Nigeria in November.

She is the first woman in the area to be awarded one of the hundred A.A.U.W. fellowships offered annually for graduate study.

"I AM VERY excited about this topic," Marcia wrote to Mrs. Neville Massa, former California state president of A.A.U.W., "both because few functional studies of this nature have been done on Africa, and because the press in Nigeria played an unusually important role. Political parties formed around the different newspaper groups."

"One fact which continues to amaze me is that there have been over 100 African newspapers in Nigeria. . . I am terribly grateful for the opportunity which the fellowship makes possible."

"And I certainly do appreciate the encouragement which you gave me a year ago Christmas."

IT WILL NOT be the first time Marcia has traveled for first-hand experience in foreign lands. In 1960, she was one of 180 college students chosen to travel through 11 West African countries, living and working with the people as part of "Operation Crossroads," a good-will trip led by Dr. J. H. Robinson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Harlem, and Dr. Israel Mowschowitz, Rabbi of Hillcrest Jewish Center in Flushing, Long Island.

While attending Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania, she was their representative to the 9th annual Student Conference on U. S. Affairs, held at West Point in 1959.

Because of her fluency in the Spanish language, and through contacts made at the conference, she was invited to be a translator at an international student conference in Urbana, Illinois.

DURING THIS conference, her mother, Mrs. J. R. T. Montin of 2210 Hillside Court, Walnut Creek, received an urgent phone call from Marcia, desiring permission to visit Cuba, at the invitation of the Cuban government.

Fidel Castro was, at this time, eager to show off the new government and had invited foreign students to view the university, hotels and industries.

Mrs. Montin reports that the "comic opera" aspects of the trip did not escape Marcia. The secret service police relished their role, and brandished arms to all sides.

When Castro visited the hotel, security precautions dictated that everyone be "locked in" their location during his stay.

For Marcia, who was enjoying a swim, this meant a much prolonged stay poolside.

SWARTHMORE awarded Marcia with the Peaslee Scholarship for six months study in Lima, Peru, on Latin American relations. No stranger to South America, she had attended first grade in Colombia where her father was engaged in construction work for the Presbyterian Church missions board. During another 10 year period the Montins had a religious publishing firm in Mexico.

"Marcia picked up the equivalent of a first year in Spanish by doing lessons with her father in the car as we drove back and forth from Walnut Creek to Mexico," reports her mother.

SHE GRADUATED from Las Lomas High School in 1956, an all-A student and winner of the Elks scholarship, and awards from the D.A.R., California Scholarship Federation and Las Lomas.

Upon graduation from Swarthmore, she received a master of arts degree, and a master of laws and diplomacy degree from the Fletcher Graduate School in Medford, Massachusetts.

The question of why Marcia looks toward Africa, rather than South America, is answered by the continents' two different attitudes toward women.

In Africa, Marcia realizes she would be treated as a person. In South America, she would be regarded as a woman.

"The future is there for those who are prepared for it," says Mrs. Montin. In tracing Marcia's preparation for her African trip, it is obvious that her future is ready and waiting.

Her accomplishments are even somewhat of a wonder to her parents.

At the end of the interview,

Mrs. Montin shook her head slightly and mused, "She's come a long way from the little girl who used to hide in the closet when visitors came."

In Africa, she would be free to hitch-hike, if she wished; whereas in South America, it would be unthinkable for her to gain access to certain meetings, or even to go out at night unescorted.

AFRICA, she feels, is more of a "clean slate." The beginnings of new governments there offer an exciting field of study.

Heavy Rains Mean More Snails, Slugs, Bugs

Contra Costa's spring rains are helping to cause a population explosion among the state's snails, slugs and bugs, a scientist of the Dow Chemical Company says.

W. J. Arnold, ornamental pesticide expert, adds that partly because of rains serious gardeners are going to have to go to war against a veritable army of pests this year.

SNAILS, for example, are out in larger force than usual because they have been activated by the continuous spring moisture.

"If we had had a dry early spring, they would have stayed hidden out for awhile," Arnold explained. "In cold weather, they seal themselves in their shells and glue themselves to walls. In hot, dry weather, they also seal themselves so they won't lose their body moisture."

Slugs and a wide range of other pests which feed on garden foliage have also built up in large numbers because of the recurring rains and moisture, according to Arnold.

FORTUNATELY, he said, there's a solution for gardeners. Snails, slugs and bugs should be sprayed with an ornamental pesticide which is effective against a wide range of garden pests.

If this is done thoroughly on a monthly basis, he advises, the snail, slug and bug problem can be kept under control.

Without periodic spraying, snails, slugs and bugs can be a continuing problem throughout the summer months—no matter whether it rains or not.

"Take snails," Arnold says. "When it's dry, gardeners water regularly to maintain their garden beauty."

But since this moisture acts just like rain by driving snails out into the open and onto ornamentals for damaging feeding, spraying with an effective pesticide can be extremely helpful."

ASIDE FROM easily observable snails and slugs, Arnold suggested a means of finding out whether a lawn is afflicted with a heavy incidence of ornamental pests:

Put a teaspoon of household detergent liquid into a half-gallon container of water. Mix and dump over a square foot of lawn area.

This irritates pests such as lawn moth larvae, cutworms, army worms and other bugs which often lurk in turf grass or dichondra, and they climb into the open.

"If you see as few as one or two of these pests per square foot, you had better start killing snails, slug and bugs," Arnold said.

German Honors Won

Three Miramonte High School students received awards in the National German contest. They will receive honors in the Little Theater of San Francisco State College at 1:30 p.m.

Students from Orinda who won, all Miramonteans, are: Larry Madin, Sven Nissen-Meyer and Roy Hoyer.

Dam Can Help Delta

Huge Oroville Dam can be of benefit to Contra Costa County in solving the Delta salinity problem despite the fact that the dam is being constructed primarily to conserve water for transfer to Southern California via the Delta.

This assertion was made recently by the chairman of the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, James P. Kenny, who represented the county at the dam site when the first batch of concrete, containing sand from each of California's 58 counties, was poured for the core of the dam.

"CONTRA COSTA COUNTY has been rightfully concerned about plans for the Delta that have been proposed by the Department of Water Resources for transfer of Feather River Project water across the Delta," Kenny told the board of supervisors, "but, the fact remains that Oroville Dam will add significantly to upstream storage in the Sacramento River basin. Kenny said that Oroville will add upstream storage of more than three million acre feet.

ALTHOUGH the Oroville dam is primarily a state project, the federal government is providing more than 20 per cent of the construction costs of the dam.

Parents Can Help Teen-Age Drivers

Teenagers are good drivers—it is their attitude that causes problems for themselves and the community.

This was the opinion voiced by law enforcement, traffic safety and driving experts and educators at a meeting held recently in the Sacramento River basin. Kenny said that Oroville will add upstream storage of more than three million acre feet.

The meeting, held at Acalanes High School, was sponsored jointly by Del Valle Council of PTA's and the East Bay-Contra Costa Safety Council.

THE PROGRAM presented a panel which included Judge Betsy Rahn, Captain Edward Jelich, Highway Patrol; Lt. Norman Wilson, Sheriff's office; Acting Police Chief Frank Thompson of Walnut Creek Police Department, and Assistant Superintendent Leland Russell, Acalanes High School District. Tom Holler was chairman of the meeting.

A number of other authorities were present as resource people for the meeting which was held to inform parents representing all of the parent groups in the Acalanes High School District. Among these were Mark Kermit, county traffic engineer; Robert Holcomb and Harry Day, Walnut Creek Police Department; R. J. Webster, driver training teacher in Richmond and Monte Balfour, automobile insurance agent.

"Skillful but immature" was the description Captain Jelich used for the teenage driver. They lack much needed experience in dealing with emergencies, he added.

"Showing off" and a too emotional approach to driving were listed by others as largely contributing to poor driving and accidents in this age group.

Holler noted that statistics show that only 5.3 per cent of drivers in California are under 20 years old but they account for 10.9 per cent of fatal accidents and 12.5 per cent of injury accidents.

STATUS SYMBOL expressed by the ownership of an automobile to drive to school, instead of using school buses, creates traffic problems, the group agreed. Between 100 and 150 cars are driven to each district high school daily, Assistant Superintendent Russell said.

This mass movement daily accounts for other problems. High among these is the safety of "walkers" both to and from high schools and also elementary schools, using the roads during the same hours.

Traffic engineer Kermit stated that many demands for traffic signals and other devices would become unnecessary if high school students within the two-mile limit for bus pick up, would use them instead of driving.

ACTING CHIEF Thompson indicated that these problems were slight in Walnut Creek city limits. Strict traffic enforcement and more congested city streets reduced the speed possible in other areas. He also stated that in Walnut Creek the teen driver was not "the greatest driving problem."

All participants at the meeting emphasized the importance of behind the wheel driver training.

The opinion was expressed by Judge Rahn and others that driver training should be made mandatory by law as driver education is now.

It was generally agreed that increasing the age limit to 18 years for obtaining a driver's license, as proposed by two bills now before the legislature, was not the answer. A law making it necessary to complete driver's training before a license would be issued would be a far better approach they felt. In the interim it was suggested that driver's training should be improved in the schools.

RUSSELL pointed out that nearly 100 per cent of students graduating from Acalanes District high schools were completing driver's training before graduation. The purpose of the training is to teach good driving habits and a good attitude as well as mechanical skills, he said. He also explained the driver's education program in the schools.

Presently taught as part of the social studies course, next year it will be presented as a separate subject with an entire school quarter being allowed for it.

Holler, again quoting statistics, said that 40 per cent of the kids in the state were not receiving driving education or training.

This is largely due to attendance of other than public high schools and includes school "drop outs."

A MARKED decrease in accident rates was apparent by figures presented at the meeting. This was substantiated also by Balfour, who stated that recognition of the value of drivers' training had led to a 10 per cent discount in insurance rates by his and other companies for the teen driver.

Returning to the attitude of the young driver, the participants placed the responsibility with the parents for much of this problem and the driving habits of the youngster.

"Law enforcement will do its part but the real responsibility is in the home," said Capt. Jelich. Respect for the law comes quicker to the child who has learned respect for parents.

"Educate the parent and you educate the child," Lt. Wilson stated.

Judge Rahn emphasized the wrongful attitude of the parent in dealing with his child's traffic problems. It is required by law that parents accompany children appearing in court on traffic violations and it is frequently indicated by the parent that they consider the "blame" has been misplaced and defend their child against the law.

DONALD DOYLE, president of the safety council, said that evidence parents frequently will go to any means to keep their child driving is shown by their continuing to pay increased insurance premiums as more and more citations are received. "Even as high as $900 a year" is being paid by some, he said.

All those participating in the meeting were in agreement that continual parental control of the teenager's driving would make the greatest effect on the problems of the young driver.

'Mom, What Would You Do if I Was Retarded?'

The difficult questions of children create the basis of an appeal for community aid by the Council for the Retarded of East Contra Costa County.

Residents throughout the area are receiving small booklets with the question, "Mom. Hey Mom! What would you do if you met a tiger?" on the front page.

The dialogue continues: "Tigers live in the jungle, dear. They don't come into town."

"But what if one did? And he hid right in our bushes?" "I'd call a tiger-catcher. One lives right up the street."

"Mom. What would you do if it stopped raining?"

"WELL, I'd probably have a nervous breakdown, that's what."

"Huh?"

"Never mind. I'd build an ark. But it's stopped raining now, so go outside and play. And stay out of the puddles!"

"Mom. What would you do if I was retarded?"

"Don't SAY things like that!"

"Why not? That little boy up the street is retarded."

"Well, you're not. You're fine."

The dialogue ends, but the council continues the question "Mom" could not answer, pointing out that the possibility is not far-fetched.

THERE ARE an estimated 7000 mentally retarded persons in the county today, and 350 more retarded children will be born this year in this county.

The parents of the retarded children, the council advises, would put his son or daughter's name on a lot of long waiting lists. One of them would be the council's which sponsors the Lynn School for retarded children from 3 to 8 years, and the Lynn Center in Walnut Creek for teenagers and young adults.

Because the two schools are under-staffed and overcrowded, the council is asking for community support. AT THE SAME TIME, funds continue to come in from the group's Sun subscription campaign.

Council spokesmen are calling local residents who do not already subscribe to four Sun newspapers.

Because the Sun has donated its newspapers, as it has in the past several years, net proceeds from each order are contributed to an individual donation in the name of the subscriber.

Saddle Club Show Sunday

The Los Caballeros Saddle Club of Walnut Creek will hold its second annual horse show and gymkhana Sunday at Buckeye Ranch in Lafayette at 10 a.m.

There will be 14 events featuring both show and gymkhana classes. Trophies will be awarded for each event along with ribbons for first through fifth.

A senior high point trophy and a junior high point sterling silver belt buckle will also be given.

Judge of the show is John Kacey from the Oakland Riding Academy.

Serious Watering Starts in Garden

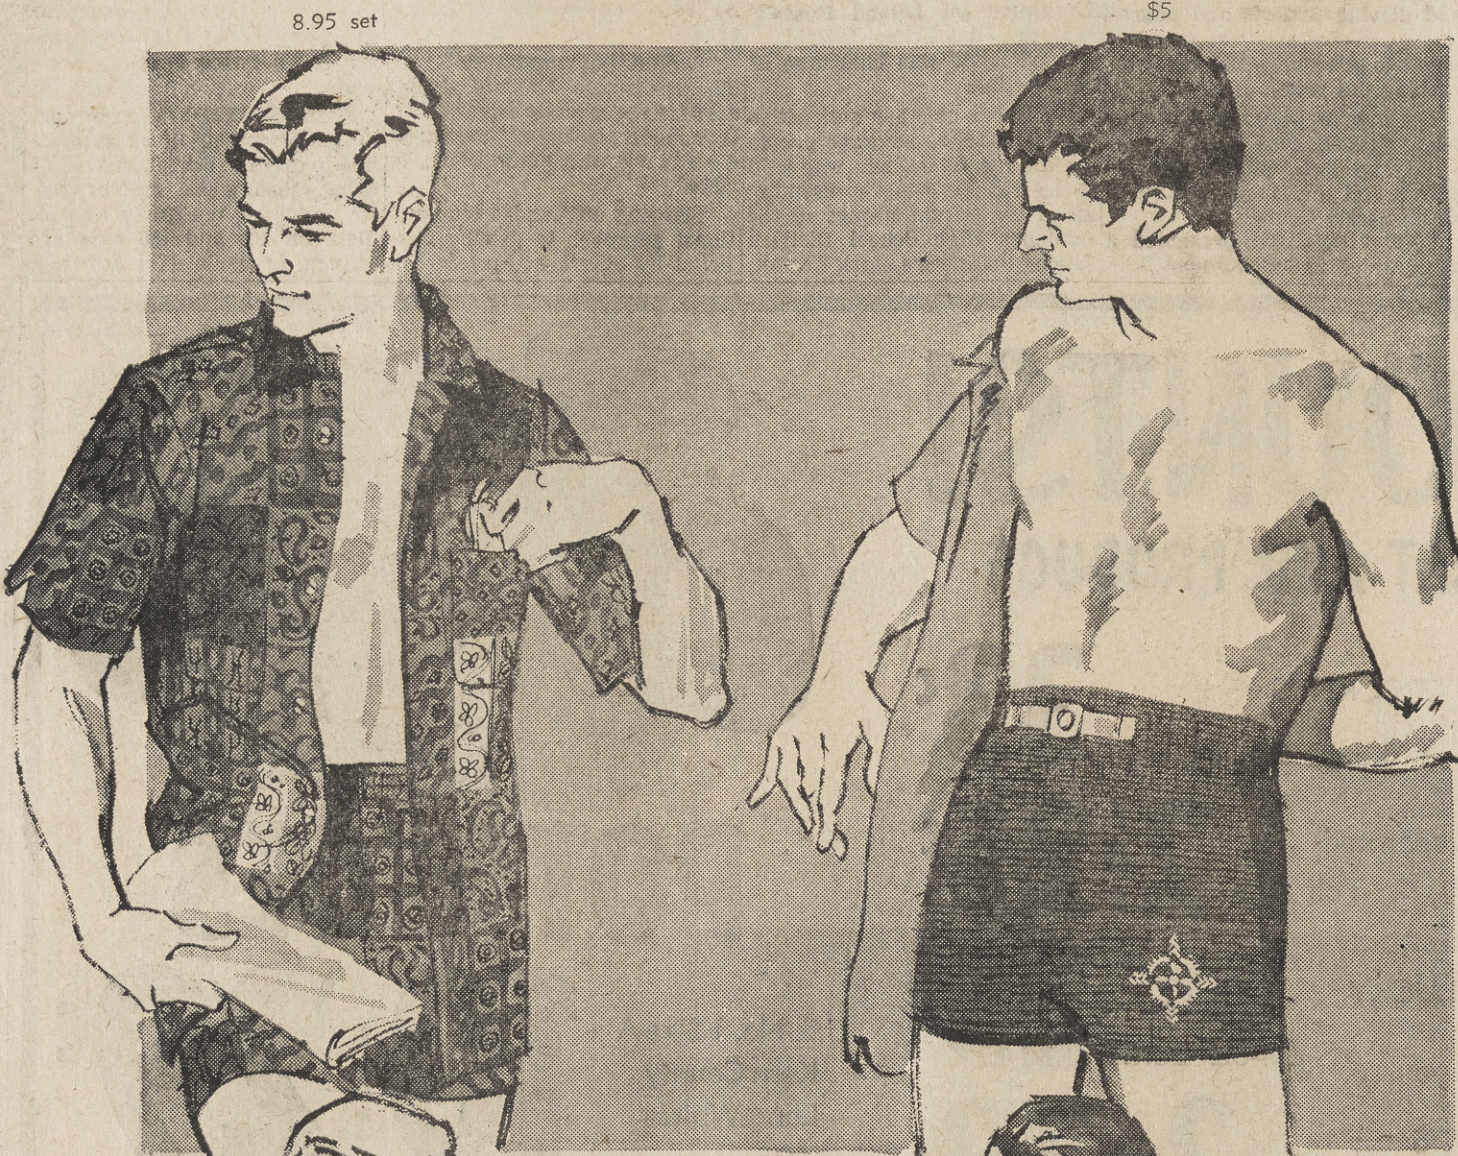

This is a month to start watering seriously. It helps to make basins around many shrubs such as roses, dwarf citrus and others to insure penetration at the roots.

Deep watering is one way to make a plant's roots go down and down so that they are less susceptible to the summer drought when it comes.

Camellias and azaleas, of course, are shallow rooted and deep watering will do no great good. These are wisely mulched with peat moss and steer manure to conserve moisture.

Druggists Use Local MD as Bad Example

An unnamed Contra Costa doctor is being used as an example in the California Pharmaceutical Association's current legislative feud with M.D.'s.

The association, pushing a bill (AB 2500) to prohibit ownership of pharmacies by doctors, claim that some doctors prescribe more drugs than their patients need in order to boost business at pharmacies they have an interest in.

"A doctor in Contra Costa County wrote prescriptions for welfare patients at the rate of $10,000 annually," the association said.

"He acquired ownership of a pharmacy and his prescriptions went up to $50,000 a year."

Francis H. Pullen, Contra Costa manager of Tittle Insurance and Trust Company, was elected treasurer.

Fries will be installed at the organization's annual dinner meeting June 7 at Concord Inn.

It's More Fun to Fly

By ELEANOR SILVERMAN

The loudspeaker at the Singapore airport blared, "Quantas V-Jet now departing for Bangkok, Delhi, Karachi, Rome and London."

And the 18 members of the Sun Orient Holiday extension hopped aboard for a short flight to Bangkok.

We were completely Orient-minded, having just left the exotic hodgepodge of the Buddhist and Hindu and Moslem culture of Singapore.

OUR GUIDE books were open to descriptions of the marble temples, golden buddhas and floating markets we would see in Bangkok; yet the friends we were to meet on this short hop on Australia's Round-the-World airline were heading for Europe.

"Small, crazy world, isn't it?" commented Harold Lather of Orinda when he reported on his fellow passenger, an Irish priest on his way home from a six-year stay in Melbourne.

The Tony Welles of Lafayette had made friends with a British soldier who had been fighting in Borneo and was heading for London on emergency leave.

Miss Betty Gray of Concord was sure she had picked the winner by sitting next to a Japanese exchange adult, who was honored by a six-month stay in Australia while his Australian counterpart spent the equivalent time in Japan.

Right after take-off, the group soothed wet brows with ice cold towels as the captain announced:

"SORRY about the delay, but we've been 'eld up by the old 'piper' work."

By the time we figured that one out, the loud-speaker continued, "You get a 'mail,' too."

Letters here on the airplane? asked Mrs. Sim Jeffries of Orinda. We were all a little slow.

Quantas was providing us with a "meal" at 9 p.m. just in case we had missed out on the other three meals that day.

The flight was a pleasant interlude between the strange Oriental lands of Malay and Thailand.

For a short time we were exposed to the warm Australian personality and to the realization that our Orient and Far East tour covered just a small section of a criss-cross of thousands of potential vacations.

GOP 'Ele-Fund' Drive Underway

Announcement of community chairman appointments was made today by Mrs. Harold C. Bates, Moraga, chairman of the GOP "Ele-Fund Drive" for Contra Costa County.

"Leaders of the drive report an enthusiastic response to their request for volunteer workers," according to Sam Conti, chairman of the Contra Costa Republican Central Committee.

"The drive will be conducted today through Monday," Conti explained, "at which time we hope to contact every registered Republican in the county and urge their active participation in the party."

Chairmen appointed to supervise activities in their communities are:

Mrs. Howard Wiedemann and Mrs. Robert Livermore, San Ramon Valley; Mrs. Robert Van Gelder, Orinda; Norman Passur, Walnut Creek; Mrs. John B. McMasters, Moraga; Roger Dunn, Lafayette.

Jack Welden, Kensington; R. K. Frisbie, El Cerrito; T. W. Riley, Richmond; Mrs. W. Haskins, Concord; Mrs. A. L. King, Pleasant Hill; Mrs. Nunzio Sparacino, Martinez; Mrs. John Sanchez, Pittsburg, and Mrs. John Purvis, Hercules.

Members of the executive committee of the GOP "Ele-Fund" are:

Mrs. Harold C. Bates, chairman; Sam Conti, Roger Dunn, R. K. Frisbie, Mrs. Herbert Gonsan, Miss Mary Lowden, Mrs. W. Parker, T. W. Riley, Mrs. Carolyn Spatta, Roy Westran and Mrs. Frank Young.

Special School Teachers' Pay Rate Changed

A salary schedule for the 22 teachers who will teach at the special schools operated by the office of County Superintendent Floyd Marchus in 1963-64 has been "liberalized" with the approval of the Contra Costa Board of Education.

The new schedule will be tied to a higher salary step rather than the median of that paid teachers in the county. If the new schedule had applied this year, each teacher would have received an additional $75, Marchus said.

Teachers will also receive more credit and pay for prior teaching experience. Each year will qualify for a year of credit, rather than two years qualifying for one credit, as is currently the case.

Each step gained under the liberalized schedule will increase the salary $200. The maximum number of steps for credit will remain at five.

The new schedule will apply at schools in Juvenile Hall and the Contra Costa County Boys' Rehabilitation Center, Byron, and four schools for mentally retarded children:

Hazel W. L. at Knightsen, Jefferson at Richmond, Lone Tree at Brentwood and Valley at Alamo.

Realtors Fete IREF Delegates

A 20-member delegation from the Contra Costa Board of Realtors joined 200 other realtors in the Bay Area to welcome foreign real estate delegates en route to the 14th Congress of the International Real Estate Federation in Chicago.

The reception was held at the Claremont Hotel, Berkeley, according to Board President Ray Henry.

Kids' Natural Science Courses Offered

Youngsters' applications for enrollment in two natural science programs are being accepted at the Alexander Lindsay Junior Museum.

Formerly called the Diablo Junior Museum, it has been renamed in honor of its founder, the late Alexander Lindsay.

Museum workshops include working in lab and field with live animals, insects, birds and reptiles.

The Museum will conduct two four-week sessions of a Natural Science Workshop in the art room of the Walnut Creek Intermediate School, 2425 Walnut Boulevard.

FIRST SESSION runs June 17 to July 12; second session from July 15 to August 9.

Applicants must be at least seven years of age.

Each pupil will attend two two-hour classes a week, including work in both field and classroom.

A $7 fee, with a $5 charge for any additional pupils from the same family, is payable in advance. Five different class schedules are available.

THE DIABLO Valley College program will begin June 17 and run through July 26.

Open to those ten years old or older, the program will include a lab session and field trip each week under the direction of Ferd Ruth, Diablo Valley College instructor.

The fee is $10, and $8 each for additional children from the same family.

Four different schedules are available for this program.

To apply, and to obtain additional information, write to Alexander Lindsay Junior Museum, P.O. Box 432, Walnut Creek.

Beginning June 4, and each Tuesday and Thursday there after between 9 a.m. and 12 noon, call 932-2677 for information.

There is but one morality, as there is but one geometry.

Demos Like Kuchel Blast

Contra Costa Democratic Central Committee last week urged their Republican counterparts to join them in support of U.S. Senator Thomas Kuchel's "statesman-like stand against right-wing crackpots."

The committee told the county Republican Central Committee that responsible citizens have good reason to be concerned about the "pernicious influence this small but intensely active group has upon the community."

The Democrat's organization also endorsed the Rumford Fair Housing Bill and the county pay-as-you-go park plan.

'Once Upon a Mattress' Ends Run This Weekend

"Once Upon a Mattress," the delightful musical story of the Princess and the Pea, will be given for the last times tonight and tomorrow by the Diablo Valley College music and drama departments.

Under the joint direction of Harvey Berman, Diablo Valley drama instructor, and Gordon Keddington, college music director, the play opened May 10 and will end this weekend. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. in Diablo Valley's Viking Theatre.

"Since seating in the Viking Theatre is limited to 100 persons per performance, tickets should be reserved by phoning the college at 685-1230," announced Berman.

CAST IN the musical, written by Mary Rodgers (daughter of the famed Richard Rodgers), is Sharon Williams of Concord, who portrays "Winifred," the simple country princess who wins the hand of "Prince Dauntless," played by Daniel Leite, Walnut Creek, because she is too sensitive to sleep upon a pea although there are twenty soft mattresses atop it.

Joan Housden, Concord, plays the shrewish "Queen Agravaine" who opposes her son's marriage so vehemently that she must be outwitted by the King, Ray Terry (Oakland); The Jester, Paul Bengston (Concord) and the Minstrel, Al Abercrombie of Pittsburg.

OTHER MEMBERS of the cast include Sandy Adams, Jim Cambell, Alice Castelan, Bob Fisher and Jim Sciley of Pleasant Hill; Freddie Wolt, Betty Edmough, John Harrington and Gail Klinefelter of Concord.

Penny Place, Don Rookaird, Dennis Schmiding and Gigi Zaro of Walnut Creek; Roy Costellino and Alice Lynn, Lafayette; Maureen O'Malley and Michael Sigari, Antioch; Bob Jones, Orinda; Richard James, Martinez, and Bill Dodd of Berkeley.

10 New Teachers Appointed to Faculty Positions

Another group of 10 instructors has been employed by the governing board of the Contra Costa Junior College District, bringing to 20 the number of new teachers who will assume duties in the district's two colleges next fall.

The hirings are in anticipation of 6400 fulltime day students enrolling for classes in September. With part-time day and evening students, the prospect is that the colleges will enroll more than 14,000 students during the 1963-64 school year.

TWO OF THE teachers, Mrs. Beverly M. Calsoyas and Alec Ross, will be assigned to Contra Costa College in San Pablo, and the remainder to Diablo Valley College.

Mrs. Calsoyas is an instructor in political science at Santa Rosa Junior College and Ross, currently a student at San Francisco State College, has been an instructor and head librarian at Menlo College, Menlo Park, for six years.

The new DVC instructors and the subjects they will teach are: JOHN P. DIGGINS and John O. Stevens, social science; Eugene R. Goselin, biological science; Silas E. Gould, drama; Joseph R. Cuertin, foreign language; Miss Virginia M. Johnson, mathematics; Mrs. Margaret G. Kimball, English, and David I. Plant Jr., police science.

Diggins is a part-time teacher at Los Angeles Valley Junior College, Goselin a biology teacher at Pleasant Hill High, Gould a drama teacher at Ramona High School in Riverside, Guertin a teaching assistant in the University of California's French department, Miss Johns a teacher at the College of Marin, Plant is a highway patrolman and a part-time program teacher at DVC, and Stevens is currently a student teacher at DVC.

Bergamini Named Program Chairman

John Bergamini of Tom Lucas, Realtor, firm has been selected second quarter program chairman for the Contra Costa Board of Realtors.

He succeeds Gordon Nicholson of Lafayette.

Bergamini acquires speakers for the general membership meetings of local Realtors and salesmen, held weekly at the Walnut Creek Elks Club.

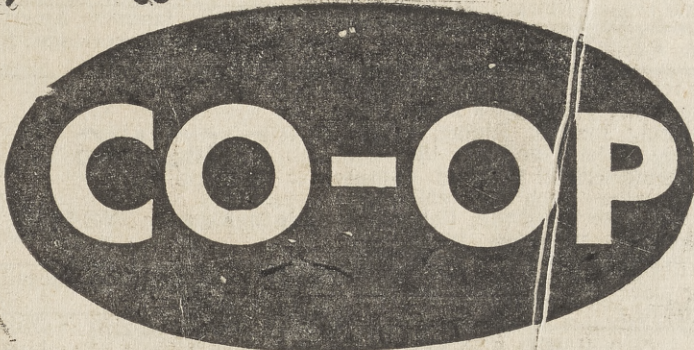

Veracity is the heart of morality.

SR, Moraga Lead Boom in Enrollment

There are 6275 more students in the public schools of Contra Costa County than there were last spring, an increase of 5 per cent.

The total in all grades, kindergarten through junior college, is 124,052 reports County Superintendent Floyd Marchus.

Three elementary school districts, one high school district and Contra Costa Junior College District experienced an enrollment increase of 17 per cent or more.

San Ramon was first with an increase over last spring of 81 per cent, followed by Moraga, 33 per cent; Knightsen, 22 per cent; and San Ramon Valley Union High School and the junior college district, each 17 per cent.

Another six districts had increases in the 10-13 per cent bracket: Byron Union and Liberty Union High School, Alacanes Union High, Mt. Diablo Unified's grades 7-12, Port Costa and Vine Hill. The last district is one of the components of the new Martinez Unified School District, which will begin to operate July 1.

Of the total enrollment, 75,049 are elementary school pupils, 44,166 junior high and high school and 4837 junior college.

Dr. Marchus added that 10,758 children are enrolled in kindergarten and 5540 in grade 12, so that "two enter school for each one who graduates." When the first World War II babies were beginning to enter school, however, the ratio was four entering to one leaving, he said.
